FRENCH TROUBLES MOUNTING

BACKS DE GAULLE — Former governor of Algeria Jacques Soustelle, speaks to a crowd in Boufarik as he seeks to whip up support for Gen. Charles de Gaulle in Algerian villages. Here, as in Algiers, many of the Arab women have now discarded their face veils.

Tunisian Fight Flares; Algeria Still Uneasy

Paris Plane Drops Bomb To Touch Off North African Fuss

PARIS (AP) — Fighting between French and Tunisian forces erupted today, heaping new North African troubles on Premier Pierre Pflimlin's government.

President Habig Bourguiba said in Tunis the fighting broke out after French planes dropped a bomb Wednesday on the airport at Gafsa, in south central Tunisia 25 miles from the Algerian border.

The French had accused Tunisia of trying to provoke a clash with French troops at a time when the government in Paris is trying to regain control of neighboring Algeria from French rightists.

"We would prefer that the question of the evacuation of French troops from Tunisia be regulated in a friendly manner," Bourguiba said, "but we fear that we will no longer find anyone in authority with whom to discuss the problem."

• • •

FRENCH TROOPS and planes have been technically restricted to their bases by Tunisian orders since the bombing of a border village in February touched off a crisis between France and its former protectorate.

A Conservative leader lent a hand to hard-pressed Premier Pflimlin by going off to see Gen. Chares de Gaulle, who has offered to assume full power in France.

The leader, Antoine Pinay, was reported urging De Gaulle to use his influence over insurgent military men and French colonials in Algeria to bow to Paris' authorities.

Pflimlin was speeding progress of constitutional reforms aimed at strengthening the executive authority and make it more difficult for the National Assembly to turn cabinets out of office.

Pflimlin's new military chief, meanwhile, prepared for a mission to Algiers aimed at bringing the Gaullist generals there back under the control of Paris. A military envoy from Algiers already was in Paris.

The premier put his constitutional proposals in shape for Cabinet consideration in a conference Wednesday night with political leaders, who have given him overwhelming support so far.

The chief aim is to end the rapid turnover in French cabinets which has so often stymied French policy and produced the demand for a strong-man regime headed by De Gaulle.

• • •

THE HEART of the reform plan reportedly is a constitutional amendment requiring the opposition, before it can vote out a government, to come up with a new premier and program acceptable to the Assembly majority. Provision also would be made for dissolving the Assembly and holding new elections when the Cabinet and the deputies deadlocked without acceptable alternative.

In his first major step to reestablish the government's control in Algeria, the premier ordered Gen. Henri Lorillot, new chief of staff for the combined forces, into North Africa.

His departure date was a closely guarded secret to protect him from colonial hotheads.

On a Crossroads Called Harmony

Police Probe Possibility of Triangle As Crash Kills Husband, Hurts Wife

BRIDGETON, N. J. (AP) —It's a quiet country crossroads called Harmony.

A young wife and husband met there Tuesday night in a flaming two-car crash that ended in the husband's death.

And Wednesday police said that at the end of the road there may have been another man, a man waiting for a date with 19-year-old Mrs. Vera Wright.

She kept him waiting.

Mrs. Wright was critically injured when the car she was driving smashed broadside into her husband's auto.

The husband, Lester, also 19, was dead 10 minutes after being pulled from his blazing auto.

Walter Robinson, 56, of Newfield, owner of the car that Mrs. Wright was driving is being questioned by police.

State Police Sgt. William R. Conway said his office was looking into discrepancies between statements made by Robinson and Mrs. Wright.

Conway quoted Robinson as saying he had been the woman's boy friend for about a year and that Wright apparently did not disapprove of their relationship.

He told police the Wrights had quarreled the night of the accident because Mrs. Wright wanted Robinson's car to drive home.

According to Robinson's statement, he and Mrs. Wright had made a date for later in the evening. The date had been arranged in Wright's presence, he said.

The statement said husband and wife drove off at the same time.

The woman's version of the affair, police said, was that her husband drove off angrily after the argument and that she borrowed Robinson's car to follow him home.

She said nothing of the reported date or of any relationship with Robinson.

Regardless of which version is correct, Conway said, the couple "might have been more or less racing" to their Bridgeton home.

He said each car could have taken one of several routes, adding: "They happened to meet at one of the country crossroads."

Cost of Living Hits New High During April

But Federal Officials Say Some Food Price Tags Dipping in May

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another record high in housewives' grocery costs sent the government's living cost index to a peak in April.

Officials who announced the new rise today had some good news for consumers, however. They said some food prices are declining in May and that the over-all level seems to be reaching a somewhat stable level for the summer months.

Ewan Clague, Labor Department statistics commissioner, said that "in a broad general way I'd say the index has shot its bolt — there's no question about it, the big rises are now over."

The government index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent between March and April, reaching 123.5 per cent of the 1947-49 base.

The April rise was wholly due to higher food prices, particularly fresh fruits and vegetables. Prices for meats and fish also were up.

• • •

THE APRIL living cost level was 3.5 per cent above April 1957. It represented the 18th increase in the last 20 months. It has declined only once in the last 28 months, despite the business recession.

The new rise means a pay increase to about half a million workers based on labor contracts geared partly to changes in the government index. Most of the workers will receive boosts on June payroll of about two or three cents an hour. Some will get as high as five cents an hour more.

Another 750,000 workers normally would get pay adjustments based on the April index increase.

They include employes of the major auto companies. Labor contracts for these workers are expiring at the end of this month.

The automatic raises go to workers in the aircraft and electrical manufacturing industries.

The two-cent increase which the auto workers would have received under the old contract is expected to be a factor, at least, in calculating new wage rates now being negotiated in Detroit.

Clague said food prices, the main element which has been boosting the index, usually hit a peak about July every year and declined in August.

• • •

CLAGUE INDICATED belief that enough consumer items are showing decline tendencies to make him think that retail costs soon will level off.

Housing, medical care and personal care items all increased in April although clothing and transportation costs declined. The transportation items were influenced principally by lower prices for gasoline, new cars and tires. Used car prices rose slightly, indicating more people are turning to second-hand automobiles.

Food items alone increased by seven-tenths of one per cent in April, reaching another record.

A boostof 4½ per cent in fruit and vegetable prices represented the joint effect of seasonal influences plus continued effect of adverse growing conditions in the winter and spring.

Panama Under State of Siege As Students, Hoodlums Riot

PANAMA (AP) — The government declared a state of siege today while National Guardsmen fought to regain control of the city from rioting students and hoodlums. Gunfire killed a boy and wounded at least six other persons.

Guardsmen hurled tear gas grenades at rioters who charged through the streets armed with clubs, rocks and bottles.

The government imposed a five-day state of siege (modified martial law) throughout the country.

Students, who began the demonstrations to protest school conditions, seemed to have lost control to hoodlums.

Buses stayed in the barns and private cars avoided the downtown section as violence and destruction raged unchecked.

The Guardsmen appeared to be avoiding an open clash. They chased away gangs which battered down traffic lights and smashed a store window but seemed unable to cope with all the violence.

Thousands of persons were forced to walk to work. The streets in the heart of the downtown quarter were strewn with garbage cans. At least three homemade gasoline bombs exploded in scattered areas.

• • •

YOUNGSTERS ranged down the city's main thoroughfare smashing parking meters.

The National Guard, which acts as both police and army, also is the object of the students' wrath since a high school boy was killed in a rock and tear gas clash between students and Guardsmen Monday.

High school and university students demanded that President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. fire three Guard commanders as well as Education Minister Victor Juliao by midnight Wednesday.

When the deadline passed, the students called for a general strike. They said they had the support of the labor unions.

High school and university students charge Juliao has failed to provide proper high school facilities.

Ohio Education Costs Detailed

Investment Varies Throughout State

COLUMBUS (AP)—How much are local boards of education investing in the education of Ohio's school children? It depends on where the child lives. It might be only $186.02 per head or it could be as high as $620.15.

Those two extremes were recorded last year within a single county—Hamilton—the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research and Service reports. The low was in Lincoln Heights, the high in St. Bernard.

Statewide, the average cost increase for each child's education was $20. Average annual cost per child was $279.31 against $259.83 the previous year.

Total operating costs for all public schools was $456,682,250. Total enrollment was 1,635,047.

Average per-pupil cost in Ohio's 138 city school distrct was $295.84. For the 77 exempted village districts the average was $260.95 and for the 88 county districts it was $256.20.

Among Ohio's metropolitan centers, Youngstown had the highest per-pupil cost at $334.81 and Columbus was lowest with $257.44. In between were Cincinnati $319.54; Cleveland $317.00; Dayton $303.39; Akron $284.70; Toledo $275.89, and Canton $274.30.

Among exempted village districts, the top was $463.94 at Fairport Harbor. Chesapeake was lowest with $204.75.

Highest cost for county school districts was in Cuyahoga County with $336.57 and the lowest was $205.06 in Clermont County. Separate figures for local school districts within county districts were not available.

Milt Eisenhower Is 'Dad of Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, was chosen today by the National Father's Day Committee as "U.S. Father of the Year." Sunday, June 15, has been designated Father's Day.

Other fathers honored were: Victor Borge, television, who has five children; Walter Cronkite, radio, two children; Peter Ustinov, stage, two children; Martin Mayer, literary, one child; Sugar Ray Robinson, sports, two children; and Eddie Fisher, music, two children.

City Files Answer in Garbage Suit

The City of Circleville yesterday filed a demurrer in Pickaway County Clerk of Courts' Office in answer to an amended petition filed by George Bidinger in April.

Bidinger issuing the City for damages totaling $190,000 for loss incurred under an exclusive garbage hauling contract made with the city.

Bidinger's amended petition, as ordered by the court, named former City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins and former City Service Director Dewey Speakman as the specific officials responsible for the damages resulting from loss of his garbage contract.

The demurrer was filed by attorneys Robert Huffer, city solicitor, and Emmitt Crist, who are representing the city.

• • •

IN THE SHORT demurrer, the City stated that it is a well-recognized general rule of Ohio law that the contract of which this action is based, and the ordinance of the City on which the contract was based, must either be pleaded or attached to the amended petition of the plaintiff.

In the above case neither was done in the matter and no cause of action is stated by the plaintiff in his petition, the demurrer read.

The demurrer concluded by stating that courts, by universal law, do not take judicial notice of private contracts or ordinances.

Bidinger is represented by Harry Margulis, Ashville, and Harry L. Culberton, Akron. The next action in this case must be taken by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

Train Kills Mother Who Saves Her Child

TOLEDO (AP)—A passenger train struck and killed a mother today as she tried to pull her 5-year-old daughter from her stalled automobile. The child escaped with cuts and bruises.

Dead was Mrs. Frances Bancroft, 31, whose body was found partially under the automobile after the train knocked the car about 25 feet from the New York Central crossing at Nebraska Ave.

Jealous Boy Tries To Take Own Life

ALBION, Neb. (AP) — An honor student and the daughter of a prominent farm family died in a burst of gunfire Wednesday night from the rifle of a rival for the girl's attention.

The shots that shocked this town of 2,132 population were fired by Kermit Keeshan, 17. His father William is a former county attorney and mayor in Albion.

Keeshan tried to kill himself with a bullet in the head after he killed Jerry Sherwood, 18, and Diane Zaruba, 17. He is expected to recover.

Young Sherwood, whose father Lynn is a former school board president, was killed at the rooming house where Diane stayed while in school.

Diane was slain despite the bravery of housewife Mrs. Frank Svoboda, who said she didn't have time to get scared as she tried to keep Keeshan from Diane.

Deputy County Atty. Ray Medlin said Keeshan, carrying a .22 rifle, found Jerry with Diane.

Apparently there was a struggle between the boys and then a shot that hit Jerry in the heart.

• • •

DIANE RAN screaming from the house toward the Svoboda backyard, where Mrs. Svoboda was working.

A shot hit the running girl in the leg but she hobbled onward to the side of Mrs. Svoboda, who waved her on to the Svoboda back door.

Mrs. Svoboda stood quietly as Keeshan raced up, then, when he came to a halt, slapped him hard in the face. He dropped his gun.

The housewife turned, walked to her back door and stood guard in front of Diane.

But Keeshan picked up his gun. He advanced and fired again at Diane, who was crouched behind Mrs. Svoboda. The shot hit her in the chest.

Keeshan then turned and walked back to the room where Sherwood had died. There he tried to kill himself.

Blast Rocks Missile Base

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (AP)—An explosion rocked the U. S. Army Nike guided missile base here today. State police reported there were several dead and injured.

The base is one of 10 in northern New Jersey designed to guard the New York metropolitan area.

Father Time Fells Man with Ax, 124

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Father Time has cut down "the man with the ax," whose associates agreed with his calculation that he was born 124 years ago.

Francisco Gomez Marfill, who, if his memory was correct, was born while his adopted Texas was a province of Mexico, died Wednesday of old age.

Until he became ill six months ago, Gomez Marfill walked about this south Texas city with a single-bladed ax, his trademark, always balanced on his shoulder. He was a wood cutter.

U.S. Plans Arms Aid to Indonesia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is issuing licenses for the sale and shipment of about half a million dollars worth of small arms to Indonesia, the State Department said today.

Officials said the department has decided that the arms, suitable for police work, would not alter the balance between the government and rebel forces.

Diplomats speculated that the change actually indicates a shift of U.S. policy toward Indonesia where the anti-Communist rebellion had aroused considerable sympathy in Washington.

British Costs Up, Too

LONDON (AP) — The Ministry of Labor said today the British cost of living index jumped 2 points to 110 between mid-March and mid-April. The index is based on prices of January 1956 as 100.

Ike Orders Special Panel To Probe Mid-Air Collisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today ordered his Air Coordinating Committee to make a special study aimed at eliminating midair collisions "to the maximum degree."

The White House said Eisenhower's action was prompted by the collision in Maryland Tuesday of an Air National Guard jet and a commercial airliner. That crash took a dozen lives.

At the same time, Eisenhower arranged to confer later in the day with two House members who are members of a committee investigating the Tuesday crash.

Rep. Prince Preston (D-Ga) said he and Rep. Cliff Clevenger (R-Ohio) are the top members of a House Appropriations subcommittee which was rebuffed by federal air officials Wednesday night on a subcommittee plan aimed at halting civilian-military air crashes.

The subcommittee voted to take the issue directly to Eisenhower.

• • •

EISENHOWER'S Air Coordinating Committee is headed by retired Air Force Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada.

Aministrator James T. Pyle of the Civil Aeronautics Administration meanwhile was telling a Senate Commerce subcommittee "We are not going to solve this problem overnight."

Military-civilian collisions have taken 61 lives in a month, spurring new demands in Congress for new air safety measures.

Pyle said a new control system to be put into effect on all major U.S. airlanes will require that both civilian and military planes fly by instruments with safety spaces between them.

Early today, Capital Airlines said an Air Force jet bomber narrowly missed colliding with a Capital airliner over Ohio Wednesday night.

Capital identified the bomber as a B47. There was no immediate comment from the Air Force. The Capital plane landed safely at Baltimore about 1½ hours later with its crew of 4 and 15 passengers.

The incident occurred a day after a Maryland Air National Guard jet fighter rammed a Capital airliner near Brunswick, Md., killing 12 persons.

Capital headquarters here confirmed a report from Cleveland that a near collision had occurred over northwest Ohio about 40 miles south of Toledo.

Airline officials said Capt. Jesse Bradford of Baltimore reported his airliner was flying east toward Washington at 19,000 feet when a B47, apparently dropping down to land, suddenly crossed near his plane.

Little Presidential Timber Seen Now on Governor List

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The nation's governors headed homeward today from their golden anniversary conference without having pegged any star performer for the 1960 Democratic and Republican presidential nominations.

In four days of meetings, the governors covered subjects ranging from the size of the National Guard to a proposal for a conference on the recession.

They heard Secretary of Defense McElroy and Secretary of the Treasury Anderson explain what the federal government is doing — and why it hasn't done more—to combat the slump.

But behind the scenes governors who consider themselves available for their party's top nomination two years from now maneuvered for position and publicity to help their cause.

The general opinion among those who had no national ambitions was that none of those who displayed their wares made much headway in a field from which the party nominees traditionally are chosen.

• • •

DEMOCRATIC Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, who would like to be the 1960 Democratic nominee, stumbled over a coalition roadblock in his efforts to win the chairmanship of the conference. Southern Democrats and conservative Western Republicans gave the plum to Democratic Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida.

This helped Collins in his obvious bid to become a compromise representative of the South on a 1960 Democratic ticket that would avoid any showdown stand on the school segregation issue.

In the Democratic ranks, Governors Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut and Averell Harriman of New York generally were credited with outshining their colleagues. Neither is considered presently available for the 1960 presidential nomination.

Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky said that after looking over the field of availables, he is not at all embarrassed to be running openly for the 1960 nomination.

On the Republican side, there was an admitted lack of presidential talent among GOP governors. They seemed generally to take it for granted that Vice President Nixon will be their party's 1960 nominee.

More Fighting Plagues Lebanon

BEIRUT (AP)—After three days of comparative quiet, heavy fighting has broken out again in Lebanon. A battle between government forces and a splinter Moslem sect raged around the village of Baalbeck Wednesday.

A band of Shiite Moslems stormed the town but were driven out. Fighting continued outside.

Lebanon has asked that its trouble with antigovernment rioters be discussed at a special meeting of the eight-nation Arab League Council.

Lebanon has charged the United Arab Republic with interferring in its affairs. The U. A. R. has denied the accusation.

Clouds Replace Sunny-Skies Here

Sunny skies in the Circleville area suddenly disappeared today when rain bearing clouds moved in for a spell.

The sun made frequent showings thereafter but for short periods only.

Showers and thunderstorms are slated early tonight with fair skies again scheduled to make an appearance tomorrow.

Ike Given New Postal Hike Bill

First-Class Letters Due To Cost 4 Cents

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed and sent to the White House today a bill to raise the cost of a first-class letter from 3 to 4 cents and on airmail letters from 6 to 7 cents.

The rate hikes will take effect Aug. 1 if President Eisenhower signs the bill.

The measure also carries wage increases for postoffice workers aggregating $380 million a year — more than Eisenhower proposed.

The House sent the compromise measure to the White House after brief discussion. The Senate passed it Wednesday 88-0. The House vote also was unanimous, 379-0.

The bill provides for an overall increase in postal rates of an estimated $550 million annually.

The bill does not contain the Senate provision permitting military personnel having Army Postoffice or Fleet Postoffice addresses abroad to send letters free.

• • •

HOUSE CONFEREES insisted on limination of the provision.

As a revenue producer, the bill falls about $150 million short of what the President wanted, while the raises it provides for 520,000 postal employes total $220 million more than Eisenhower proposed.

The bill is a compromise of measures passed separately by the House and Senate. Its major provision is for an increase from 3 to 4 cents in the cost of mailing a first-class letter. This accounts for about $350 million of new revenue.

Boosts in rates on letters, post cards, air mail and books would become effective Aug. 1.

Rates on newspapers and magazines and on advertising matter would also be increased, in stages, starting Jan. 1.

Severe Storm Warning Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Weather Bureau today issued this severe thunderstorms forecast for southwestern and south-central Ohio:

"A few severe thunderstorms accompanied by isolated damaging winds and some large hail are expected to occur today from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m., EST. The specific area is 50 miles either side of a line from Indianapolis, Ind., to Zanesville, Ohio."

Meg-Peter Tieup Is Denied Again

LONDON (AP) — A Buckingham Palace denial of another report that Princess Margaret will get engaged to Peter Townsend puzzled British newspapers today.

The press wondered why the palace had bothered to deny the report published in a Geneva paper from its London correspondent. The report followed a dinner meeting of Group Capt. Townsend and the princess, who announced in 1955 she wouldn't marry him because he is divorced.

The palace explained it issued the denial because the report was picked up by a British news agency and distributed throughout the world which tended to lend the report authority.

Sightseeing Pupil Falls from Hotel

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the thousands of high school seniors sightseeing in Washington fell from his hotel room to a concrete sidewalk four floors below today.

The youth was Philip Johnson, 18, one of 36 Florence (Wis.), High School pupils on a tour here. He was in critical condition.

Johnson shared a room at the Ebbet Hotel in downtown Washington with three classmates. He slept Wednesday night on a cot with Richard Haferkorn, also 18.

The cot was next to an open window. Haferkorn said Johnson must have gotten up during the night and plunged out the window.

YOUNGSTERS ranged down the city's main thoroughfare smashing parking meters.

The National Guard, which acts as both police and army, also is the object of the students' wrath since a high school boy was killed in a rock and tear gas clash between students and Guardsmen Monday.

High school and university students demanded that President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. fire three Guard commanders as well as Education Minister Victor Juliao by midnight Wednesday.

When the deadline passed, the students called for a general strike. They said they had the support of the labor unions.

High school and university students charge Juliao has failed to provide proper high school facilities.

Ohio Education Costs Detailed

Investment Varies Throughout State

COLUMBUS (AP)—How much are local boards of education investing in the education of Ohio's school children? It depends on where the child lives. It might be only $186.02 per head or it could be as high as $620.15.

Those two extremes were recorded last year within a single county—Hamilton—the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research and Service reports. The low was in Lincoln Heights, the high in St. Bernard.

Statewide, the average cost increase for each child's education was $20. Average annual cost per child was $279.31 against $259.83 the previous year.

Total operating costs for all public schools was $456,682,250. Total enrollment was 1,635,047.

Average per-pupil cost in Ohio's 138 city school distrct was $295.84. For the 77 exempted village districts the average was $260.95 and for the 88 county districts it was $256.20.

Among Ohio's metropolitan centers, Youngstown had the highest per-pupil cost at $334.81 and Columbus was lowest with $257.44. In between were Cincinnati $319.54; Cleveland $317.00; Dayton $303.39; Akron $284.70; Toledo $275.89, and Canton $274.30.

Among exempted village districts, the top was $463.94 at Fairport Harbor. Chesapeake was lowest with $204.75.

Highest cost for county school districts was in Cuyahoga County with $336.57 and the lowest was $205.06 in Clermont County. Separate figures for local school districts within county districts were not available.

Milt Eisenhower Is 'Dad of Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, was chosen today by the National Father's Day Committee as "U.S. Father of the Year." Sunday, June 15, has been designated Father's Day.

Other fathers honored were: Victor Borge, television, who has five children; Walter Cronkite, radio, two children; Peter Ustinov, stage, two children; Martin Mayer, literary, one child; Sugar Ray Robinson, sports, two children; and Eddie Fisher, music, two children.

City Files Answer in Garbage Suit

The City of Circleville yesterday filed a demurrer in Pickaway County Clerk of Courts' Office in answer to an amended petition filed by George Bidinger in April.

Bidinger issuing the City for damages totaling $190,000 for loss incurred under an exclusive garbage hauling contract made with the city.

Bidinger's amended petition, as ordered by the court, named former City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins and former City Service Director Dewey Speakman as the specific officials responsible for the damages resulting from loss of his garbage contract.

The demurrer was filed by attorneys Robert Huffer, city solicitor, and Emmitt Crist, who are representing the city.

• • •

IN THE SHORT demurrer, the City stated that it is a well-recognized general rule of Ohio law that the contract of which this action is based, and the ordinance of the City on which the contract was based, must either be pleaded or attached to the amended petition of the plaintiff.

In the above case neither was done in the matter and no cause of action is stated by the plaintiff in his petition, the demurrer read.

The demurrer concluded by stating that courts, by universal law, do not take judicial notice of private contracts or ordinances.

Bidinger is represented by Harry Margulis, Ashville, and Harry L. Culberton, Akron. The next action in this case must be taken by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

Train Kills Mother Who Saves Her Child

TOLEDO (AP)—A passenger train struck and killed a mother today as she tried to pull her 5-year-old daughter from her stalled automobile. The child escaped with cuts and bruises.

Dead was Mrs. Frances Bancroft, 31, whose body was found partially under the automobile after the train knocked the car about 25 feet from the New York Central crossing at Nebraska Ave.

Jealous Boy Tries To Take Own Life

ALBION, Neb. (AP) — An honor student and the daughter of a prominent farm family died in a burst of gunfire Wednesday night from the rifle of a rival for the girl's attention.

The shots that shocked this town of 2,132 population were fired by Kermit Keeshan, 17. His father William is a former county attorney and mayor in Albion.

Keeshan tried to kill himself with a bullet in the head after he killed Jerry Sherwood, 18, and Diane Zaruba, 17. He is expected to recover.

Young Sherwood, whose father Lynn is a former school board president, was killed at the rooming house where Diane stayed while in school.

Diane was slain despite the bravery of housewife Mrs. Frank Svoboda, who said she didn't have time to get scared as she tried to keep Keeshan from Diane.

Deputy County Atty. Ray Medlin said Keeshan, carrying a .22 rifle, found Jerry with Diane.

Apparently there was a struggle between the boys and then a shot that hit Jerry in the heart.

• • •

DIANE RAN screaming from the house toward the Svoboda backyard, where Mrs. Svoboda was working.

A shot hit the running girl in the leg but she hobbled onward to the side of Mrs. Svoboda, who waved her on to the Svoboda back door.

Mrs. Svoboda stood quietly as Keeshan raced up, then, when he came to a halt, slapped him hard in the face. He dropped his gun.

The housewife turned, walked to her back door and stood guard in front of Diane.

But Keeshan picked up his gun He advanced and fired again at Diane, who was crouched behind Mrs. Svoboda. The shot hit her in the chest.

Keeshan then turned and walked back to the room where Sherwood had died. There he tried to kill himself.

Blast Rocks Missile Base

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (AP)—An explosion rocked the U. S. Army Nike guided missile base here today. State police reported there were several dead and injured.

The base is one of 10 in northern New Jersey designed to guard the New York metropolitan area.

Father Time Fells Man with Ax, 124

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Father Time has cut down "the man with the ax," whose associates agreed with his calculation that he was born 124 years ago.

Francisco Gomez Marfill, who, if his memory was correct, was born while his adopted Texas was a province of Mexico, died Wednesday of old age.

Until he became ill six months ago, Gomez Marfill walked about this south Texas city with a single-bladed ax, his trademark, always balanced on his shoulder. He was a wood cutter.

U.S. Plans Arms Aid to Indonesia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is issuing licenses for the sale and shipment of about half a million dollars worth of small arms to Indonesia, the State Department said today.

Officials said the department has decided that the arms, suitable for police work, would not alter the balance between the government and rebel forces.

Diplomats speculated that the change actually indicates a shift of U.S. policy toward Indonesia where the anti-Communist rebellion had aroused considerable sympathy in Washington.

British Costs Up, Too

LONDON (AP) — The Ministry of Labor said today the British cost of living index jumped 2 points to 110 between mid-March and mid-April. The index is based on prices of January 1956 as 100.

Ike Orders Special Panel To Probe Mid-Air Collisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today ordered his Air Coordinating Committee to make a special study aimed at eliminating midair collisions "to the maximum degree."

The White House said Eisenhower's action was prompted by the collision in Maryland Tuesday of an Air National Guard jet and a commercial airliner. That crash took a dozen lives.

At the same time, Eisenhower arranged to confer later in the day with two House members who are members of a committee investigating the Tuesday crash.

Rep. Prince Preston (D-Ga) said he and Rep. Cliff Clevenger (R-Ohio) are the top members of a House Appropriations subcommittee which was rebuffed by federal air officials Wednesday night on a subcommittee plan aimed at halting civilian-military air crashes.

The subcommittee voted to take the issue directly to Eisenhower.

• • •

EISENHOWER'S Air Coordinating Committee is headed by retired Air Force Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada.

Aministrator James T. Pyle of the Civil Aeronautics Administration meanwhile was telling a Senate Commerce subcommittee "We are not going to solve this problem overnight."

Military-civilian collisions have taken 61 lives in a month, spurring new demands in Congress for new air safety measures.

Pyle said a new control system to be put into effect on all major U.S. airlanes will require that both civilian and military planes fly by instruments with safety spaces between them.

Early today, Capital Airlines said an Air Force jet bomber narrowly missed colliding with a Capital airliner over Ohio Wednesday night.

Capital identified the bomber as a B47. There was no immediate comment from the Air Force. The Capital plane landed safely at Baltimore about 1½ hours later with its crew of 4 and 15 passengers.

The incident occurred a day after a Maryland Air National Guard jet fighter rammed a Capital airliner near Brunswick, Md., killing 12 persons.

Capital headquarters here confirmed a report from Cleveland that a near collision had occurred over northwest Ohio about 40 miles south of Toledo.

Airline officials said Capt. Jesse Bradford of Baltimore reported his airliner was flying east toward Washington at 19,000 feet when a B47, apparently dropping down to land, suddenly crossed near his plane.

Little Presidential Timber Seen Now on Governor List

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The nation's governors headed homeward today from their golden anniversary conference without having pegged any star performer for the 1960 Democratic and Republican presidential nominations.

In four days of meetings, the governors covered subjects ranging from the size of the National Guard to a proposal for a conference on the recession.

They heard Secretary of Defense McElroy and Secretary of the Treasury Anderson explain what the federal government is doing — and why it hasn't done more—to combat the slump.

But behind the scenes governors who consider themselves available for their party's top nomination two years from now maneuvered for position and publicity to help their cause.

The general opinion among those who had no national ambitions was that none of those who displayed their wares made much headway in a field from which the party nominees traditionally are chosen.

• • •

DEMOCRATIC Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, who would like to be the 1960 Democratic nominee, stumbled over a coalition roadblock in his efforts to win the chairmanship of the conference. Southern Democrats and conservative Western Republicans gave the plum to Democratic Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida.

This helped Collins in his obvious bid to become a compromise representative of the South on a 1960 Democratic ticket that would avoid any showdown stand on the school segregation issue.

In the Democratic ranks, Governors Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut and Averell Harriman of New York generally were credited with outshining their colleagues. Neither is considered presently available for the 1960 presidential nomination.

Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky said that after looking over the field of availables, he is not at all embarrassed to be running openly for the 1960 nomination.

On the Republican side, there was an admitted lack of presidential talent among GOP governors. They seemed generally to take it for granted that Vice President Nixon will be their party's 1960 nominee.

More Fighting Plagues Lebanon

BEIRUT (AP)—After three days of comparative quiet, heavy fighting has broken out again in Lebanon. A battle between government forces and a splinter Moslem sect raged around the village of Baalbeck Wednesday.

A band of Shiite Moslems stormed the town but were driven out. Fighting continued outside.

Lebanon has asked that its trouble with antigovernment rioters be discussed at a special meeting of the eight-nation Arab League Council.

Lebanon has charged the United Arab Republic with interferring in its affairs. The U. A. R. has denied the accusation.

Clouds Replace Sunny-Skies Here

Sunny skies in the Circleville area suddenly disappeared today when rain bearing clouds moved in for a spell.

The sun made frequent showings thereafter but for short periods only.

Showers and thunderstorms are slated early tonight with fair skies again scheduled to make an appearance tomorrow.

Ike Given New Postal Hike Bill

First-Class Letters Due To Cost 4 Cents

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed and sent to the White House today a bill to raise the cost of a first-class letter from 3 to 4 cents and on airmail letters from 6 to 7 cents.

The rate hikes will take effect Aug. 1 if President Eisenhower signs the bill.

The measure also carries wage increases for postoffice workers aggregating $380 million a year — more than Eisenhower proposed.

The House sent the compromise measure to the White House after brief discussion. The Senate passed it Wednesday 88-0. The House vote also was unanimous, 379-0.

The bill provides for an overall increase in postal rates of an estimated $550 million annually.

The bill does not contain the Senate provision permitting military personnel having Army Postoffice or Fleet Postoffice addresses abroad to send letters free.

• • •

HOUSE CONFEREES insisted on limin ation of the provision.

As a revenue producer, the bill falls about $150 million short of what the President wanted, while the raises it provides for 520,000 postal employes total $220 million more than Eisenhower proposed.

The bill is a compromise of measures passed separately by the House and Senate. Its major provision is for an increase from 3 to 4 cents in the cost of mailing a first-class letter. This accounts for about $350 million of new revenue.

Boosts in rates on letters, post cards, air mail and books would become effective Aug. 1.

Rates on newspapers and magazines and on advertising matter would also be increased, in stages, starting Jan. 1.

Severe Storm Warning Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Weather Bureau today issued this severe thunderstorms forecast for southwestern and south-central Ohio:

"A few severe thunderstorms accompanied by isolated damaging winds and some large hail are expected to occur today from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m., EST. The specific area is 50 miles either side of a line from Indianapolis, Ind., to Zanesville, Ohio."

Meg-Peter Tieup Is Denied Again

LONDON (AP) — A Buckingham Palace denial of another report that Princess Margaret will get engaged to Peter Townsend puzzled British newspapers today.

The press wondered why the palace had bothered to deny the report published in a Geneva paper from its London correspondent. The report followed a dinner meeting of Group Capt. Townsend and the princess, who announced in 1955 she wouldn't marry him because he is divorced.

The palace explained it issued the denial because the report was picked up by a British news agency and distributed throughout the world which tended to lend the report authority.

Sightseeing Pupil Falls from Hotel

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the thousands of high school seniors sightseeing in Washington fell from his hotel room to a concrete sidewalk four floors below today.

The youth was Philip Johnson, 18, one of 36 Florence (Wis.), High School pupils on a tour here. He was in critical condition.

Johnson shared a room at the Ebbet Hotel in downtown Washington with three classmates. He slept Wednesday night on a cot with Richard Haferkorn, also 18.

The cot was next to an open window. Haferkorn said Johnson must have gotten up during the night and plunged out the window.

AP Labor Deal Rapped By Prober

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said today the A&P stores reaped benefits worth millions of dollars by conniving with Butchers Union leaders in a labor contract.

This statement of his views marked the windup of public hearings by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee on a secret deal through which 10,000 New York area A & P grocery clerks were blanketed into the Butchers Union in 1952 unaware that they were bound to a 45-hour week.

An analysis of the testimony, McClellan said in a statement of findings, establishes a number of improper practices which this committee must condemn.

"The evidence seems to be quite clear that the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. embarked on a course of conduct in 1952 that produced serious violations of various provisions of the National Labor Relations Act," he said.

"We are forced to the inevitable conclusion, and the evidence before this committee supports it, that the A & P deprived more than 10,000 of its empoyes of their right guaranteed under the National Labor Relations Act to be represented by a collective bargaining agent of their own choice.

"It is obvious that the advantages of this arrangement were measurable in millions of dollars."

Ohioans Split Vote On Alaska Statehood

Democrats for: Ashley, Feighan, Hays, Kirwan, Polk, Vanik.

Republicans for: Ayres, Denison, Vorys.

Republicans against: Baumhart, Betts, Bolton, Brown, Clevenger, Henderson, Hess, McCulloch, McGregor, Minshall, Schenck, Scherer. Bow (R) was paired for, Jenkins (R) was paired against.

Wide Gains Recorded by Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels continued active as the stock market widened its gains in brisk trading early this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to around a point were posted by key stocks.

Another jump in the cost of living to a record high, bringing with it automatic pay boosts to thousands of workers, was a market factor.

Steels, rails, aircrafts, base metals and oils did well.

Indications from some steel industry spokesmen that there would be a price boost and industry's increasing output from very low levels were news elements accompanying the rise in steels.

Market analysts said, however, that an important factor in the rise of steels was the "squeeze" on short sellers. There has been a big boost in the short position of the leading steels. Short sales are sales of borrowed stock made in the hope the stock can be bought at a lower price and repaid. The continued rise in steels has thus put pressure on the "shorts" to cover their sales before a sustained price advance brings them heavy losses.

U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, Lukens Steel and Youngstown Sheet all rose about a point and Bethlehem added a fraction.

Inspiration Copper showed a net fractional loss as it halved its dividend.

Gains of about a point were made by American Tobacco, Kennecott, International Nickel and Caterpillar. Also higher were General Motors, J. I. Case, North American Aviation, Curtiss-Wright, Sinclair, Union Carbide and American Cyanamid.

U.S. government bonds advanced.

Senators OK Bill To Aid Idle Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved a House-passed bill authorizing the federal government to advance money to the states for a temporary extension of unempoyment benefits. The vote was 11-4.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said the anti-recession measure, endorsed by Eisenhower is to be brought up for action in the Senate next Tuesday.

The committee rejected by a 10-4 vote a substitute proposal of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) to liberalize the emergency measure and to strengthen the unemployment insurance system on a permanent basis.

Germans Ignore Snub in Dayton

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP)—The Augsburg city fathers aren't worried because the Dayton (Ohio) museum has refused to hang a collection of German amateur paintings.

"We don't care where they're going to be hung as long as they're exhibited in a decent place," A. Lechelmayr, a city official, said.

Officials at the Dayton Museum ruled Wednesday that their gallery has an obligation to show the works of professionals only. The canvases are being exchanged under a cultural agreement between the two cities made last year.

Senators Restore All Cuts in Ike's Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted tentatively today to restore in full the $339 million the House cut from President Eisenhower's $3.9 billion foreign aid program.

The committee, in actions subject to later reconsideration, voted to raise President Eisenhower's emergency fund for use in extinguishing "brush fire" wars from the $100 million voted by the House to the $200 million the President requested.

U.S. Policies Cited In Nixon Attacks

DAYTON (AP) — Attacks on Vice President Nixon during his recent visit to South America can be blamed partially on the United States' trade policies, the Ohio League of Women Voters was told here Wednesday.

Mrs. Oscar Ruenbhausen, director of the national League of Women Voters and the group's observer at the United Nations, made the statement before more than 200 delegates to the Ohio league's conference here.

Segregation Showdown in Virginia Nears

OMAHA (AP) — The integration versus segregation battle in Virginia is headed for a showdown this fall. The state Parents-Teachers organization is awaiting that showdown helplessly and almost hopelessly.

"We'll try to handle what happens this fall just as it develops," said Mrs. W. W. Kavanaugh, president of the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers. "Our task is to keep the public schools open, to insure that our children get an education. It's difficult to stick to a middle line, but that is what we must do."

The Supreme Court Monday refused to consider a last-ditch appeal that would prevent Negro students from entering Arlington County white schools next fall.

The state administration has threatened to close the schools, under anti-integration laws that say state funds are to be shut off if integration occurs.

Mrs. Kavanaugh spoke out today after the conclusion of the 62nd annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The national body took no stand on the integration question this year.

The Virginia PTA may be split right down the middle. Mrs. Kavanaugh said the group had members on both sides.

William D. Hedges, 49, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Hedges, Route 1, Ashville, last week was elected vice president of Columbus Coated Fabrics Corp.

Hedges, who joined the company in 1933, will direct all development and research on new and existing products and continue to direct the chemical laboratory.

Hedges, who resides in Columbus, graduated from Walnut Twp. High School and Maimi University. He holds a master's degree in chemistry from Boston University.

Hedges married the former Georgia Anna Lindsey, whose father was George Lindsey, a local attorney connected with the firm of Snyder and Lindsey. Hedges is a nephew of George Grand-Girard, former druggist for many years.

1 of 2 Cincy Labor Fusses Is Settled

CINCINNATI (AP)—One Cincinnati strike has ended but a federal mediator said there has been no progress toward settlement of another.

The strike that ended involved 300 United Steelworkers at the Heekin Can Co. They had been idle since May 1, but voted Wednesday to accept a new two-year contract.

The agreement provides for a pay increase of 6½ cents an hour and for fringe benefits totaling another 6½ cents. The pay boost will make the scale range from $1.74 to $3.12 an hour.

Other provisions of the contract call for the company to provide for retirement and disability pensions, insurance, seven paid holidays and up to four weeks of vacation time.

Federal Mediator James G. Bentley reported, however, negotiators made no progress Wednesday toward settlement of a strike of 1,100 members of the United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union at the Philip Carey Mfg. Co. plant. That strike started May 3.

Bentley said there were no immediate plans for any further negotiating meetings.

Ohio Now Tapping Advance Poor Fund

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Welfare Department has started drawing on next year's poor relief appropriations to meet matching obligations to counties for expenditures during March.

Officials speculated that at the present rate of spending, next year's appropriation of $12 million might be exhausted even before the Legislature convenes in regular session next January, six months before the next bookkeeping year ends.

The state Board of Control approved transfer of $207,583 from the $12 million appropriation for the fiscal year starting next July 1. Finance Director John A. Skipton, board chairman, said the Welfare Department will be back for further transfers for April, May and June relief payments.

Special Events Approved by C of C Group

Nine special business promotional events have been approved by the Retail Merchants Committee of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

First event on the 1958-59 schedule is a special Memorial Day program. Stores will be open Thursday night preceding Memorial Day and be closed on the holiday itself.

The same schedule will apply for the July 4th holiday weekend.

Next event on the slate is the annual Dollar Day celebration, set this year for August 14. Fall Festival of Values will be October 2-4.

Pumpkin Show plans are for October 15-18.

THANKSGIVING falls on November 27, with the annual visit of Santa Claus to Circleville planned for November 28.

Special store hours have been set for the Christmas season. Beginning December 12, stores will be open evenings. They also will be open Wednesday afternoons starting December 3. All local stores will close at 6 p. m. Christmas eve.

February 13 has been chosen as the date for the 1959 late winter Dollar Day promotion.

Richard Pettit is chairman of the Retail Merchants Committee of the C of C. Darrell Hatfield is executive secretary of the group.

Blast Takes 2nd Life

DAYTON (AP) — James W. Lilly, 53, of Dayton, died Wednesday of burns received last week in an explosion while he and his son were refinishing floors. The son, James H., 31, also was fatally burned in the blast.

AP Labor Deal Rapped By Prober

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said today the A&P stores reaped benefits worth millions of dollars by conniving with Butchers Union leaders in a labor contract.

This statement of his views marked the windup of public hearings by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee on a secret deal through which 10,000 New York area A & P grocery clerks were blanketed into the Butchers Union in 1952 unaware that they were bound to a 45-hour week.

An analysis of the testimony, McClellan said in a statement of findings, establishes a number of improper practices which this committee must condemn.

"The evidence seems to be quite clear that the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. embarked on a course of conduct in 1952 that produced serious violations of various provisions of the National Labor Relations Act," he said.

"We are forced to the inevitable conclusion, and the evidence before this committee supports it, that the A & P deprived more than 10,000 of its empoyes of their right guaranteed under the National Labor Relations Act to be represented by a collective bargaining agent of their own choice.

"It is obvious that the advantages of this arrangement were measurable in millions of dollars."

Ohioans Split Vote On Alaska Statehood

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is how Ohioans voted Wednesday as the House decided to consider a bill admitting Alaska to the union:

Democrats for: Ashley, Feighan, Hays, Kirwan, Polk, Vanik.

Republicans for: Ayres, Denison, Vorys.

Republicans against: Baumhart, Betts, Bolton, Brown, Clevenger, Henderson, Hess, McCulloch, McGregor, Minshall, Schenck, Scherer. Bow (R) was paired for, Jenkins (R) was paired against.

Wide Gains Recorded by Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels continued active as the stock market widened its gains in brisk trading early this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to around a point were posted by key stocks.

Another jump in the cost of living to a record high, bringing with it automatic pay boosts to thousands of workers, was a market factor.

Steels, rails, aircrafts, base metals and oils did well.

Indications from some steel industry spokesmen that there would be a price boost and industry's increasing output from very low levels were news elements accompanying the rise in steels.

Market analysts said, however, that an important factor in the rise of steels was the "squeeze" on short sellers. There has been a big boost in the short position of the leading steels. Short sales are sales of borrowed stock made in the hope the stock can be bought at a lower price and repaid. The continued rise in steels has thus put pressure on the "shorts" to cover their sales before a sustained price advance brings them heavy losses.

U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, Lukens Steel and Youngstown Sheet all rose about a point and Bethlehem added a fraction.

Inspiration Copper showed a net fractional loss as it halved its dividend.

Gains of about a point were made by American Tobacco, Kennecott, International Nickel and Caterpillar. Also higher were General Motors, J. I. Case, North American Aviation, Curtiss-Wright, Sinclair, Union Carbide and American Cyanamid.

U.S. government bonds advanced.

Senators OK Bill To Aid Idle Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved a House-passed bill authorizing the federal government to advance money to the states for a temporary extension of unempoyment benefits. The vote was 11-4.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said the anti-recession measure, endorsed by Eisenhower is to be brought up for action in the Senate next Tuesday.

The committee rejected by a 10-4 vote a substitute proposal of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) to liberalize the emergency measure and to strengthen the unemployment insurance system on a permanent basis.

Germans Ignore Snub in Dayton

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP)—The Augsburg city fathers aren't worried because the Dayton (Ohio) museum has refused to hang a collection of German amateur paintings.

"We don't care where they're going to be hung as long as they're exhibited in a decent place," A. Lechelmayr, a city official, said.

Officials at the Dayton Museum ruled Wednesday that their gallery has an obligation to show the works of professionals only. The canvases are being exchanged under a cultural agreement between the two cities made last year.

Senators Restore All Cuts in Ike's Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted tentatively today to restore in full the $339 million the House cut from President Eisenhower's $3.9 billion foreign aid program.

The committee, in actions subject to later reconsideration, voted to raise President Eisenhower's emergency fund for use in extinguishing "brush fire" wars from the $100 million voted by the House to the $200 million the President requested.

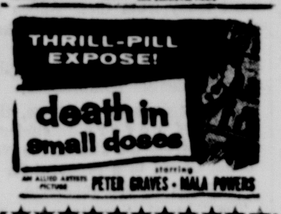

U.S. Policies Cited In Nixon Attacks

DAYTON (AP) — Attacks on Vice President Nixon during his recent visit to South America can be blamed partially on the United States' trade policies, the Ohio League of Women Voters was told here Wednesday.

Mrs. Oscar Ruenbhausen, director of the national League of Women Voters and the group's observer at the United Nations, made the statement before more than 200 delegates to the Ohio league's conference here.

Segregation Showdown in Virginia Nears

OMAHA (AP) — The integration versus segregation battle in Virginia is headed for a showdown this fall. The state Parents-Teachers organization is awaiting that showdown helplessly and almost hopelessly.

"We'll try to handle what happens this fall just as it develops," said Mrs. W. W. Kavanaugh, president of the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers. "Our task is to keep the public schools open, to insure that our children get an education. It's difficult to stick to a middle line, but that is what we must do."

The Supreme Court Monday refused to consider a last-ditch appeal that would prevent Negro students from entering Arlington County white schools next fall.

The state administration has threatened to close the schools, under anti-integration laws that say state funds are to be shut off if integration occurs.

Mrs. Kavanaugh spoke out today after the conclusion of the 62nd annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The national body took no stand on the integration question this year.

The Virginia PTA may be split right down the middle. Mrs. Kavanaugh said the group had members on both sides.

Another Secrecy Threat Coming

Newest report on the "secrecy front" in Washington is that the State Department is drafting a directive on press relations to regulate and limit contacts between news reporters and department officials.

Word already has been passed that officials must be very careful about releasing information. Those who do talk with newsman are directed to record such contact, make a memo of information supplied and hold the interview in the presence of a department public relations officer.

Two weeks ago the Defense Department also revised its information policies. Press contacts formerly the custom with officials of the three services, Army Navy and Air Force (and other agencies) now are to be prohibited. All releases are to clear through the office of Murray Snyder, assistant secretary of defense for information.

This appears to be a deliberate attempt by the administration to close up channels of information. If it is not, then lower-echelon officials are taking into their own hands unwarranted controls and powers.

A few weeks ago, during the American Society of Newspaper Editors convention in Washington, the House passed a "right to know bill"—one that would prevent agencies from using the 1789 "record-keeping" law to withhold legitimate news information. But since then the bill has bogged down in the Senate and its prospects do not look good.

Few persons except newsmen get very concerned about secrecy in government. This is because only newsmen are close enough to the government to understand how arrogant its bureaucrats often are and how invidious the encroachment of "classification" is.

One day people may awaken to find out that all the doors have been closed in Washington—that they get "spoon-fed" only what information top moguls want them to have. But when dictatorial control has gone that far, it will be too late. Freedom of information will be gone —and with it all the other freedoms.

Barbarians Outside the Gates

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "I think we're all losing size," said playwright Paddy Chayefsky.

"Too few people today want stature. They seem to be trying to get rid of the stature they have."

At 35 Paddy, who won fame with "Marty," finds the world a deadly serious place inhabited by people too often motivated by uncontrollable hostility or an uncontrollable reach for personal pleasure.

"I get the feeling that the clanking legions of the barbarians are outside the gates again," he said. "People have tried this wild, let's-live-it-up philosophy so often before in history, and it has never worked."

The Bronx-born author, whose chunky frame is topped by a dark shock of hair as rebellious as his spirit, currently is firm in the saddle of that rainbow mount called success. He has produced his own movie, "The Goddess" and completed the script for another, "The Middle of the Night." He is putting the finishing touches on a Broadway play.

But after years of writing, including a period spent as a gagsmith, he feels he has only now mastered the technique of his craft.

"You're a craftsman when you no longer have to watch your fingers," he explained, "and you can tell when you do something whether it's right or wrong.

"I feel now I've got the craftsmanship in my hands. Now I want to go on and become a real artist.

"I take myself seriously as a writer, whether anyone else does or not. I spend hours trying to get a single phrase right. The whole labor of writing is to make it look like it just came off the top of your head."

Many who win success find it disappointing. They look with yearning back to some earlier period of their life. Not Chayefsky. Neither his childhood nor his years as a soldier in Europe during World War II hold any romantic appeal to him.

"The happiest time of my life is right now," he said. "I hated the war, and adolescence was the unhappiest period I ever knew.

"Someone once wrote and asked my why I didn't write a play about teen-agers. I couldn't bear to. I couldn't go back and live that misery over again.

"My son, Danny, is now 3 years old. My biggest wish is that, somehow, he could skip the years between 10 and 20."

Powell and Tax Evasion

By George Sokolsky

When an ordinary, white person is indicted for an offense against the law, he hires a lawyer and takes his chance on his day in court.

Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., member of the House of Representatives, preacher of the largest Negro church in the world, graduate of three American universities, has been indicted for tax evasion. He may or may not be guilty. That will be decided in a federal court. Should he lose he will have the right of appeal the same as naybody else. It is not a racial question.

In the 1956 election, Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., who had been a Democratic leader in New York City and who has been elected to Congress as a Democrat, chose to leave his party and to support President Eisenhower.

That was his choice and every American is free to make whatever choice he desires. He was not excluded from the Democratic Party; he voluntarily announced his opposition to its candidate for the Presidency and favored the opponent of his party. Whether this included a deal on the income tax case cannot be proven one way or the other.

At any rate, the Democrats decided that he no longer belonged to them. It was not a racial question. It was a matter of being a mugwump. It has long been established in American politics that a mugwump is not supported by his party. Therefore the Democrats in New York decided that they would no longer have Powell on their ticket.

It was no secret to them that during the very days when the Democratic County Committee in New York was considering this question and reaching a decision, certain Negro Republican district leaders in Harlem were demanding that the Republican Party nominate Powell for Congress. The Republicans refused.

That refusal had nothing to do with the fact that Powell is a Negro. It does have to do with the fact that he is a mugwump and therefore politicall unstable and secondly that he was under indictment, about to be tried and that the trial might result in embarrassment to he Republican Party. He was rejected by the Republicans before the Democrats threw him over.

The Democrats knew what was happening at the meetings of the Republicans and were ready, if the Republicans nominated Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., to call it a deal. As a matter of fact, Powell's indictment took 14 months to obtain from the grand jury, resulted in the resignation of the Assistant United States Attorney who handled the case because he regarded the political pressure to which he was subjected as unseemly and unethical, and nearly produced a run-away grand jury action.

There are two sides to prejudice and discrimination. One is the side of the person of a minority group who attributes every act against his person as an act against his race. This is aform of Uncle Tomism in reverse.

Actually there are white as well as Negro income tax evaders; Protestant, Catholic, Jewish and atheistic income tax evaders; gangsters who evade income tax payments and honest folks who make obvious errors in their reports. Some violations involve moral turpitude; others involve only the law. The income tax is bad law which must be badly administered and therefore results in voluntary and involuntary violations.

It would have been better, for everybody, had the Powell case not been delayed, giving the impression that Powell supported Eisenhower as part of a deal. It would have been better for the Negroes of this country if Powell did not relate his race to his personal problems.

Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., went to the Bandung Conference which was organized by Soviet Russia to stimulate opposition to the United States against the peoples of Asia and Africa. He did a splendid voluntary job for the United States there.

I thought, at that moment, that this man had matured and that he would take his place in American life with such outstanding Negroes as Ralph Bunche, Jackie Robinson, Marian Anderson, Lena Horne, Hulan Jack and many others who are respected for their abilities and as human beings, not as members of this or that race.

Powell, however, has reverted to racial politics and demagoguery. It may get him a vote but it will do the Negroes of this country nothing but harm. It takes courage to take the blame for one's own errors. Powell apparently lacks that courage.

First-Born Often Handicapped

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

It's often thought to be the first child in a family. These infants may have more roadblocks thrown their way as they progress toward adulthood than any subsequent arrival in the family.

Parents generally make a good deal more fuss over a first child. And, consciously or unconsciously, they often try to dominate his every move.

To most parents their first child has a very special meaning. He is a fulfillment of the marriage contract; he is a sparkling new gift which will bind the marriage more closely and bring untold happiness to the family.

Many parents, unfortunately, view this new arrival as an image of perfection, not as an individual with a life all his own, with his own potential.

There is a great temptation for parents to try to relive their own lives in perfection in their first child. Often they resort to techniques which will prevent the expression of the child's individual personality. In effect, these parents try to mold the child's life to fit their own desires.

Still other parents want their children to be perfect in their own right. Here again they act to destroy the individualtiy of the child, usually the first child, through strict discipline and by rejecting him when he fails to accomplish the goals they have set.

They create behavior standards that are unecessarily high. They may insist upon table maners, performance, cleanliness or neatness which are beyond the development level of the child.

Then, there is yet another hazard of being a first child. Because he is loved so much, because he is so precious to his young parents, he may be considered too fragile, too important, to be permitted to act on his own.

Thus, these parents tend to protect him from everything—from competition, from anger, from every physical hazard. They place a protective arm about him wherever he goes.

This, of course, serves to kill a youngster's natural curiosity to try new things and it acts to keep him from doing anything for himself. He won't act on his own, he loses his initiative. When a child is unnecessarily overprotected, he generally becomes overdependent.

You see, it really is tough to be a first child.

Question and Answer

W. M.: My child was stung repeatedly last summer by bees. She had a severe reaction and almost died from these stings.

Is there any way she can be immunized against them?

Answer: Recent tests have shown that an extract made from dead bees and given in increasing dosages at various intervals, will immunize a child against bee stings.

E&R Churchmen Urge Right-to-Work Caution

DAYTON (AP) — The Southwest Ohio Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church has asked its members to think carefully before signing petitions supporting the so-called right-to-work proposal to ban the union shop.

The conference also urged cancellation of nuclear weapons tests and steps to end race segregation in some communities.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon steps right into Secretary of State Dulles' back yard and calls for a reappraisal of American policy toward Latin America. Dulles has not admitted a single error in handling Latin Americans.

Does this look like the beginning of a head-ramming contest between the two men? It's not likely. Nothing Nixon has publicly proposed so far, or is expected to propose, goes much beyond generalities.

Since both men are key members of the Eisenhower administration — and haven't locked horns since they took office in 1953 — there's no reason to expect conflict now.

Nixon, the most likely Republican presidential candidate in 1960, will hardly do anything to split the party or hand the Democrats brickbats for free. And Dulles has enough troubles all around the world without taking on Nixon.

The vice president, home after facing mob violence in Peru and Venezuela and hostile demonstrations almost everywhere he went in Latin America, talked to a National Press Club luncheon Wednesday.

He took a poke at the diplomats who work for Dulles' State Department — but this was far from a poke at Dulles — by saying it's high time the diplomats in Latin America pay more attention to labor leaders, students and newspapermen there.

He jibed at them for spending too much time and attention on the cocktail and white tie dinner circuits.

While Dulles brushed aside at his Tuesday news conference any idea that there is broad anti-Americanism in Latin America, Nixon did say it would be a great mistake to attribute to the Communists all the troubles he encountered.

He pointed out such causes of Latin-American resentment — which he said the Communists exploited — as these: a belief this country has supported dictatorships, and a decline in Latin-American exports to this country.

Dulles has acknowledged some economic factors are behind the Latin-American demonstrations. And he talked at length on American policy towards dictators without indicating any change.

It is understood Nixon in a couple of weeks will recommend to President Eisenhower and Dulles some ideas for offsetting Communist influence in Latin America. For instance: a colder attitude towards dictators.

But Nixon himself on his tour created some ill will for this country by stopping off in Paraguay and showing friendship for South America's last remaining dictator, Paraguay's President, Alfredo Stroessner.

Brian Bell, Associated Press reporter in Argentina, wrote of the effects of Nixon's visit with Stroessner as follows:

Diplomatic sources in Buenos Aires said Nixon's visit to Paraguay might have triggered the riots he encountered later in Peru and Venezuela. Bell quoted one diplomat as saying: "When Nixon included Paraguay in his trip, many South Americans took this as a direct slap at their hard fight for democratic government. It is difficult to see why Paraguay was included in (Nixon's) tour."

Within the last few days there have been mob attacks in Peru, Venezuela, Algiers and Lebanon against American individuals and U. S. installations. Those foreign rioters don't seem to care who gets hit—as long as it's Uncle Sam.

Now it's claimed Russians live longer than other peoples. Must be it just seems that way—under Red rule.

See where there's now an opera about life in the suburbs. Zadok Dumkopf wonders if it features a Commuter's Chorus.

Fearless Frank Fries appears intrigued by those strip tease contests between pro and con amateur peelers being held in London. The contestants, he's certain, are definitely show-offs.

If speed is a requisite in the disrobing, adds Frank, one imagines the judges murmuring, "Ripping, eh, what?"

He also wonders if one of the rules in a take-off tournament isn't this one: "Slips don't count!"

An attack on DePauw iniversity frat houses by Wabash colege students carrying buckets of water was easily repulsed. The affair, it seems, was a washout.

Lausche OKs Drive For Better Selling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) has agreed to join a trade association's "Crusade for Better Selling" providing management and labor use restraint on prices and wages.

Lausche made the statement in a letter to Paul R. Harbison, president of the Appliance, Radio, Television Assn. in Youngstown, Ohio.

Harbison invited Lausche to become an honorary member of the "Crusade."

An aide to Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) said Bricker also had been invited to join the movement, but that Bricker had asked for more information.

You see, it really is tough to be a first child.

Question and Answer

W. M.: My child was stung repeatedly last summer by bees. She had a severe reaction and almost died from these stings.

Is there any way she can be immunized against them?

Answer: Recent tests have shown that an extract made from dead bees and given in increasing dosages at various intervals, will immunize a child against bee stings.

E&R Churchmen Urge Right-to-Work Caution

DAYTON (AP) — The Southwest Ohio Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church has asked its members to think carefully before signing petitions supporting the so-called right-to-work proposal to ban the union shop.

The conference also urged cancellation of nuclear weapons tests and steps to end race segregation in some communities.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon steps right into Secretary of State Dulles' back yard and calls for a reappraisal of American policy toward Latin America. Dulles has not admitted a single error in handling Latin Americans.

Does this look like the beginning of a head-ramming contest between the two men? It's not likely. Nothing Nixon has publicly proposed so far, or is expected to propose, goes much beyond generalities.

Since both men are key members of the Eisennower administration — and haven't locked horns since they took office in 1953 — there's no reason to expect conflict now.

Nixon, the most likely Republican presidential candidate in 1960, will hardly do anything to split the party or hand the Democrats brickbats for free. And Dulles has enough troubles all around the world without taking on Nixon.

The vice president, home after facing mob violence in Peru and Venezuela and hostile demonstrations almost everywhere he went in Latin America, talked to a National Press Club luncheon Wednesday.

He took a poke at the diplomats who work for Dulles' State Department — but this was far from a poke at Dulles — by saying it's high time the diplomats in Latin America pay more attention to labor leaders, students and newspapermen there.

He jibed at them for spending too much time and attention on the cocktail and white tie dinner circuits.

While Dulles brushed aside at his Tuesday news conference any idea that there is broad anti-Americanism in Latin America, Nixon did say it would be a great mistake to attribute to the Communists all the troubles he encountered.

He pointed out such causes of Latin-American resentment — which he said the Communists exploited — as these: a belief this country has supported dictatorships, and a decline in Latin-American exports to this country.

Dulles has acknowledged some economic factors are behind the Latin-American demonstrations. And he talked at length on American policy towards dictators without indicating any change.

It is understood Nixon in a couple of weeks will recommend to President Eisenhower and Dulles some ideas for offsetting Communist influence in Latin America. For instance: a colder attitude towards dictators.

But Nixon himself on his tour created some ill will for this country by stopping off in Paraguay and showing friendship for South America's last remaining dictator, Paraguay's President, Alfredo Stroessner.

Brian Bell, Associated Press reporter in Argentina, wrote of the effects of Nixon's visit with Stroessner as follows:

Diplomatic sources in Buenos Aires said Nixon's visit to Paraguay might have triggered the riots he encountered later in Peru and Venezuela. Bell quoted one diplomat as saying: "When Nixon included Paraguay in his trip, many South Americans took this as a direct slap at their hard fight for democratic government. It is difficult to see why Paraguay was included in (Nixon's) tour."

Within the last few days there have been mob attacks in Peru, Venezuela, Algiers and Lebanon against American individuals and U. S. installations. Those foreign rioters don't seem to care who gets hit—as long as it's Uncle Sam.

Now it's claimed Russians live longer than other peoples. Must be it just seems that way—under Red rule.

See where there's now an opera about life in the suburbs. Zadok Dumkopf wonders if it features a Commuter's Chorus.

Fearless Frank Fries appears intrigued by those strip tease contests between pro and con amateur peelers being held in London. The contestants, he's certain, are definitely show-offs.

If speed is a requisite in the disrobing, adds Frank, one imagines the judges murmuring, "Ripping, eh, what?"

He also wonders if one of the rules in a take-off tournament isn't this one: "Slips don't count!"

An attack on DePauw iniversity frat houses by Wabash colege students carrying buckets of water was easily repulsed. The affair, it seems, was a washout.

Lausche OKs Drive For Better Selling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) has agreed to join a trade association's "Crusade for Better Selling" providing management and labor use restraint on prices and wages.

Lausche made the statement in a letter to Paul R. Harbison, president of the Appliance, Radio, Television Assn. in Youngstown, Ohio.

Harbison invited Lausche to become an honorary member of the "Crusade."

An aide to Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) said Bricker also had been invited to join the movement, but that Bricker had asked for more information.

Better Service--Higher Costs

3 Proposals Under Study To Help Transit Business

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second of two articles dealing with transportation problems in Ohio's metropolitan areas.

By DUKE YATES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—What can the more than 50 Ohio city transit companies do to stay in business?

In the last 10 years they have lost millions of passengers to the automobile while their costs have doubled. Fares cannot be boosted much farther, say transit experts, without dangerously increasing the rate of passenger loss.

A survey discloses three tentative answers to the transit problem—two from the transit companies and one from their public critics.

For the bus companies the answer is (1) tax relief or (2) municipal ownership — which, in a way, is a form of tax relief.

For the public the answer is better service. Let's examine this proposal first.

Public dissatisfaction with public transportation is almost an American tradition.

"We could run buses bumper to bumper and they still would say the service was poor," complained a Columbus transit official.

There may be some truth in this but the public still thinks the bus companies could win back their lost customers if they would just run more buses, more often to more places.

And people generally view the continued decline in transit operations as just one more way the transit companies seek to torment them.

But the transit companies are unanimous in asserting that every effort to improve service has resulted in the cost exceeding the added revenue from the increase in passengers.

"Sure we get a few more passengers," says Columbus Transit Co. Vice President E. A. Pellissier, "but we lose our shirts hauling them."

"The public has got to understand our problem," Pellissier continued. "We don't cut service because we want to. It is a matter of cost."

The bus companies do have a suggestion on how to improve service but it is not likely to endear them to the motoring public.

They would like to see more stringent traffic regulations particularly in downtown areas. These would include more one-way streets, traffic lanes restricted to the use of buses and greater restrictions on turning.

But transit companies—mindful of their already poor public relations—are not pushing these suggestions too earnestly.

Now for the question of tax relief.

The last session of the General Assembly granted transit companies a reduction in annual license fees which for some has meant the difference between a small profit and operating in the red.

The new law reduced the old weight formula fee which averaged about $50 a bus to a flat $10 per bus fee. The saving to the large companies is substantial.

Cincinnati, for example had to pay $105,060 in license fees in 1956 but only $3,080 in 1957. The Columbus Transit Co.'s fees dropped from $24,555 to $1,190. Akron went from $33,776 to $1,080. Cleveland, the largest company, already had a license fee exemption.

This reduction helped, say the transit companies, but further tax exemptions are needed.

It is highly probable that the next session of the General Assembly will see a move to exempt transit companies from their biggest tax—the state motor fuel levy.

Last year the Cleveland Transit System paid $303,208 in state motor fuel taxes. Columbus paid $43,510; Cincinnati $144,840; Akron $42,719; Toledo $62,516 and other Ohio cities lesser amounts.

Other taxes which take a substantial bite out of transit revenues are Utilities Commission license fees, state sales tax on tickets, personal property levies and federal taxes including a federal motor fuel tax.

To eliminate or reduce these levies would give the transit companies a breathing space. But it would not offer a permanent solution to their financial woes. A few years at the present rate of decline in passengers and rising costs would eat up the tax savings.

This brings us to the other answer — municipal ownership. Transit officials, however, are not animous in solution.

Some say municipal ownership is inevitable. Others say there is still hope for private enterprise.

Cincinnati City Manager C. A. Harrell believes that city will have to take over operation of its transit system within 10 or 12 years.

But in Columbus, Pellissier thinks this is not the answer. "I don't know why," he said, "but it always costs more for the government to do something than it does private industry."

Cleveland Transit, the state's only major municipally operated transit system, Pellissier said, is no more successful than the privately operated lines.

But municipally operated lines have one advantage over their privately owned counterparts. They don't have to show a profit.

However, the possibility that transit operations may in the next decade become generally an unprofitable operation makes Ohio communities with a multitude of other financial woes understandably reluctant to take on a new burden.

National City Lines, Inc. last year tried to sell its Portsmouth operation to that city but the city council wouldn't take it.

Of course, the whole problem would be solved if people would just go back to riding buses. But so far, no one has found an economically feasible way to lure the commuter back to his abandoned bus seat.

Chrysler Paying In Lieu of Vacation

DETROIT (AP)—An estimated $20 million started flowing to Chrysler Corp. employes in 10 states today.

The money is being paid in lieu of vacations, a customary procedure in the auto industry.

Chrysler employes, including those laid off, will share in Michigan, Indiana, California, New York, Ohio, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Louisiana, Georgia and Kansas.

7 Clergymen, UAW Ponder Pact Demands

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers held a daylong meeting with seven prominent clergymen Wednesday to discuss the ethical and moral aspects of the union's new contract demands, including its profit-sharing plan.

The clergymen are members of a panel invited last December by American Motors Corp. to weigh the ethical and moral principles involved in the then-upcoming negotiations between the UAW and that company.

The clergymen said in a statement incorporated in the union report of the meeting only that they appreciated the opportunity for such a meeting.

Chief spokesmen for the UAW were President Walter P. Reuther and Leonard Woodcock, vice president and director of the union's General Motors Department. The discussions covered all major auto company negotiations now in progress.

Clergymen attending the conference included: Rabbi Morris Adler, Detroit; the Rev. Robert Francis Allen, Detroit; the Rev. Cameron P. Hall, New York; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George G. Higgins, Washington, D.C.; Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, Detroit; Rabbi Eugene J. Lipman, New York; and the Rev. G. Paul Musselman, New York.

Iowa Man's Appeal Is Denied in Ohio

MILLERSBURG (AP)—A 20-year-old Muscatine, Iowa man's appeal from a sentence to the electric chair in the $4-robbery slaying of an Amish farmer last July was turned down Wednesday.

The Fifth District Court of Appeals returned a decision here denying the appeal of Cleo E. Peters, whose execution originally was set for April 10 then stayed, pending the appeal.

Peters and Michael Dumoulin, 20, of Wooster were convicted last December in the slaying of Paul Coblentz, 25, at his farm near Mount Hope. Dumoulin is under a life sentence.

Miss Kennedy Installed As Third Vice-President

Miss Mary Kennedy, Dunkel Road, was elected and installed as Third Vice-president of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Sunday at their 38th Anual Convention held at the Neil House, Columbus.

Miss Kennedy, a member of the Circleville BPW Club, is the manager of the Credit Bureau of Circleville. She has been a member of the local BPW Club since 1945, being president in 1953-54.

She was elected by District 10 to serve as district director for two years, and the past year was appointed by the state president to serve as State National Security Chairman.

Miss Christine Van Gordon, past state president, installed the following new officers at the end of the business session Sunday morning: Mrs. Chloe Maloney, Jackson, president; Mrs. Agnes Merrett, Columbus, 1st vice-president;

Mrs. Edith Strommer, Bellevue, 2nd vice-president; Miss Kennedy, Circleville, 3rd vice - president; Miss Marion Weinland, Dayton, recording secretary; Mrs. Lanora Ebie, Wooster, treasurer and Miss Beatrice Beck, Canton, auditor.

Approximately 1200 members of the Ohio Federation were registered for the convention, that was held for three days, May 16-18th. Members from the Circleville club attending were: Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh, Miss Clarissa Talbut, Miss Jo Ann Brink and Mrs. Eve-

Beta Sigma Phis Hold 17th Ohio State Convention

The 17th Ohio State Convention of Beta Sigma Phi International Sorority was held at the Netherland Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati, May 16-18. The theme used was "Just Supposin."

The convention opened on Friday with a get acquainted party entitled "Just Supposin' Variety Were the Spice of Life." "Just Supposin' It were a Woman's World" was the title for the forums which opened the Saturday sessions of the convention.

Forums on various subjects pertaining to the sorority were held with discussions by the members from all parts of the state.

A luncheon "Just Supposin' We Had All This and Heaven Too" was held in the Hall of Mirrors. Mayor Donald D. Clancy, of Cincinnati, was the guest speaker. A style show was presented by the McAlpin Store.

The formal banquet was held Saturday night with approximately 800 Beta Sigma Phis present. Frederick W. Giesel, Business Manager of the Cincinati Post, was the guest speaker. He used for his subject "Tomorrow."

The Celestial Ball was held in the Hall of Mirrors Saturday night.

Sunday morning started off with Church services followed by Brunch in the Pavillon Caprice of the Hotel. During this session, the hostess Chapters of Cincinnati presented International Honorary Membership to Mrs. Ruby DeVoist for her outstanding leadership in charitable organizations in Cincinnati.

The representative of the International Office was Miss Marjorie Scott who was present for the convention. The State Convention for 1959 will be held the early part of June in Akron.

Members of the local Kappa Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi attending the convention were Mrs. Olen Black, retiring president and Miss Mary McLaughlin. Members of Xi Gamma Sigma Chapter of Columbus attending were Miss Emma M. Tennant and Mrs. Mary Tomlinson of Circleville, Miss Zura Scoville, retiring President Mrs. Ruth Kisling, Mrs. Srah Cox, Miss Rosemary Forst, Miss Pat Sturdevant of Columbus.

The members present from Cambridge were Mrs. Dorothy Golden, Miss Mildred Keiser, Miss Kathryn Denny and Miss Elizabeth Hading. Friendships and acquaintences were renewed by Miss Tennant with the Cambridge girls as she was a member of the chapter there before moving to Circleville.

Mrs. Dumm Hosts For Emmett's WSCS

Mrs. E. O. Dumm, Route 1, will be hostess to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Emmett Chapel at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Assisting hostesses are Mis Hazel Dumm, Mr. Marvin Dumm and Mrs. George Phillips.

Household Hints

Bake canned apple slices and canned sweet potatoes together with sugar and orange juice; serve with browned link sausage for a quick meal.

Save time and trips to the post office with a home-size parcel post scale. On one model a special dial lock holds the weight secure in between usage of the scale.

Add a tablespoon of lemon juice to the butter you melt to serve with fresh asparagus stalks.

Add minced chives and parsley to the butter you melt to serve over small new boiled potatoes.

Miss Brown Presents Topic To Pickaway Plains Chapter

Twenty-nine members and one guest, Mrs. Charles Dickey, attended the May meeting of the Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution Tuesday evening at the Williamsport Parish House.

Mrs. R. R. Bales, regent, and Miss Florence Brown, chaplain, conducted the preliminary reading of the Ritual followed by the salute to the flag and Mrs. Kermit Dountz few moments on National Defense.

Mrs. Dountz then introduced Jerry Sharp and David Schein, who presented a program of trumpet solos.

The voyage of the Mayflower II from Plymouth, England to her permanent anchorage in Plymouth, Mass. was recounted by Miss Florence Brown. This journey captured the attention of people on both sides of the Atlantic for it was an honest expression of gratitude and good will on behalf of Great Britain toward the common heritage that was shared with America.

The expense of building and equiping this ship was estimated at $300,000, raised and donated by Britons only.

Prefacing their remarks of the events at National Congress in Washington D. C., the Regent and Miss Marie Hamilton voiced their pleasure in being able to view the Mayflower II.

Over 20 resolutions submitted by the 58 members of the committee on resolutions were approved by the National Congress.

Throughout the nation there are 2000 chapters and the DAR membership is listed at 50,000. The Children of the American Revolution experienced a growth of 3,000 new members. Ohio furnished 18 scholarships to deserving students.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by Secretary Mrs. Richard Hedges and the Treasurer's report by Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, it was noted by the Regent that the gravemarking ceremony for Mrs. Meeker Terwilliger would be observed at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in Forest Cemetery.

Of particular interest to committee chairmen, although members are equally welcome to attend, will be the Regents' meeting June 3 at the Deshler Hilton in Columbus at which valuable instruction and information regarding the year's activities will be discussed. All persons wishing to attend are urged to contact Mrs. Bales for reservations.

Hostess committee was: Mrs. Fred Corcoran, Mrs. Lee Luellen, Mrs. Earl Lane, Mrs. Russell McDill, Mrs. Walter Duvendeck, Mrs. Charles Schleich, Mrs. Harry McGhee, Mrs. Fred Tipton, Mrs. McClelland Newhouse, Mrs. Doyle Haas, Mrs. J. C. Hansen, Mrs. R. Seeds, Miss Margaret Dunlap.

When you are cooking shrimp in butter in a skillet or under the broiler, add a little crushed dried oregano.

Give snap beans new flavor: cook sliced scallions (green onions) in butter and add to them.

Make Spring Painting a Family Project

Painting nowadays is so simple and easy that even the most inexperienced novice can obtain good results. Youngsters love to paint—they find it jun.

So put the fun on a practical basis. If the weather warrents it, serve the "workers" a picnic lunch in the backyard.

If the kitchen is to be done over, put the kids to work while you do ceiling and walls. Let them devote their talents to painting chairs, tables, canisters, breadbox—everything, in fact, that can be removed from the kitchen and painted in the garage, cellar or, if possible, outside.

Work out a color scheme before you start, so that everything is properly organized. Have the right paints for the job.

* * *

WEARING WORK CLOTHES; the kins will enjoy the whole project and they will be proud of their contribution to the beauty of the home.

First, decide what is to be painted, what colors are wanted and what materials will be required for the job.

If the kitchen is to be done, make lunch plans in advance. When planning and shopping, don't forget such items as sand-paper, drop cloths, newspapers8start saving these in advance—clean up cloths—use these as you go along—paints, stirring paddles, a can opener, paint thinner, brushes and rollers.

Extra jobs can be added to the work program such as painting a fence or porch, doing the attic or "rec" room. Painting the window screens offers another chance for rewarding group activity.

In this task, as in all others of its kind, many hands will make the job easier. Besides having a lot of fun and plenty of activity, the children will be richer for learning how to keep the house and its contents looking nice. They will learn the joyful rewards of bringing beauty into the home.

Most important of all, they'll see how family co-operation can bring about improvements that everybody can benefit by and enjoy.

Local Film Recommended For Families

The Ten Commandments, a movie playing at a local theatre, is a film we hope everyone will get a chance to see.

The movie is very stirring, telling of the life of Moses. A person sitting in the audience feels as if he were also taking part in it.

The scenes are beautiful and magnificent. During the 3½ hour movie, there is not a time when a person is not sitting on the edge of his seat.

So many modern movies are not of the family type. This one is one the whole family will enjoy.

With graduation almost here for the seniors of county and Circleville High Schools, it is time to start planning for the future ahead.

Some will be entering college in the fall and others are planning the jobs they hope to obtain. No matter what the plans are, remember always to put your best foot forward.

For you who are seeking employment, good grooming is one of the most important features taken into consideration. An appealing voice also is helpful.

Choose clothing that is conservative nothing that you might use for dress up occasions. Gloves and hats are considered in good taste.

In choosing your job, consider the good and bad points. Also ask yourself if it is one you would be happy doing. An important part of a job is being happy in what you are doing.

Crisp, cool summer blouses are seen in many of the local downtown stores.

In one of the stores they are featuring quite a few in the Ship'n Shore line. The blouses are perfect for summer, no-iron in dacron and pima.

Some of the few shown are the French-look blouson with new easy lines and flattering rounded collar. Woven checks with a French-line collar featuring top-notched shoulders.

A casual sleeveless golfer with exclusive tee-tab pocket, has a convertible collar and long stay-put tails. Woven herringbone stripes featuring a smart mitred collar, twin-set buttons and top-notched shoulders.

To wind things up today, we have a suggestion we would like to offer you mothers with small daughter.

While you are doing your spring cleaning, to keep your little girl busy encourage her to wash up her dolls and other toys.

A wash pan, scrub brush, soap and a few old towels should equip her efficiently.

Weeky Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicken will be served in many American homes this Sunday, judging from the offerings of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores.

Broilers and fryers are economical, simple to prepare and versatile, home economists point out.

Chicken prices this week are lower in many areas, with reductions running from 2 to 10 cents a pound. Pork chops, on the other hand, are higher by the same range in many places. Sirloin, rib roast, veal chops and leg of lamb also tend upward this week, although the advances are not as widespread. Eggs are one to three cents a dozen lower generally.

Chuck roast, a recession favorite, also will be featured in some areas. A lengthy list of fish will be specials in fish-favoring sections, while the barbecue season has brought out offerings of frankfurters and spareribs.

Outstanding bargains among plentiful supplies of fresh vegetables are green onions and radishes, while asparagus and yellow sweet corn also are excellent buys. The latter is slightly higher this week

Potatoes are quite reasonable with dwindling supplies from last fall's Maine crop augmented by new California long whites and Florida reds.

Tomatoes are a little cheaper, but still on the high side of a good buy in most places.

Strawberries, pineapples and bananas — a good running start on a tasty fruit salad — are the best buys at fruit counters.

Pennsy May Sidetrack Some Passenger Trains

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad notified the Utilities Commission Wednesday it will discontinue two Cleveland to Cincinnati passenger trains June 29 but will add another Cleveland to Alliance train to take care of commutors who used the discontinued runs.

No one has publicly protested the Pennsylvania's plan to eliminate four small southwest Ohio stations, so the commission will probably allow it. The stations include Ogden in Clinton County and Hicks in Warren County.

Painting nowadays is so simple and easy that even the most inexperienced novice can obtain good results. Youngsters love to paint—they find it jun.

So put the fun on a practical basis. If the weather warrents it, serve the "workers" a picnic lunch in the backyard.

If the kitchen is to be done over, put the kids to work while you do ceiling and walls. Let them devote their talents to painting chairs, tables, canisters, breadbox—everything, in fact, that can be removed from the kitchen and painted in the garage, cellar or, if possible, outside.

Work out a color scheme before you start, so that everything is properly organized. Have the right paints for the job.

WEARING WORK CLOTHES, the kins will enjoy the whole project and they will be proud of their contribution to the beauty of the home.

First, decide what is to be painted, what colors are wanted and what materials will be required for the job.

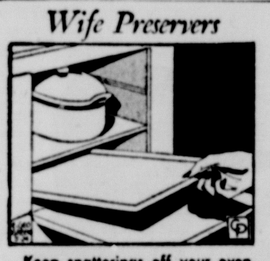

If the kitchen is to be done, make lunch plans in advance. When planning and shopping, don't forget such items as sand-paper, drop cloths, newspapers8start saving these in advance—clean up cloths—use these as you go along—paints, stirring paddles, a can opener, paint thinner, brushes and rollers.

Extra jobs can be added to the work program such as painting a fence or porch, doing the attic or "rec" room. Painting the window screens offers another chance for rewarding group activity.

In this task, as in all others of its kind, many hands will make the job easier. Besides having a lot of fun and plenty of activity, the children will be richer for learning how to keep the house and its contents looking nice. They will learn the joyful rewards of bringing beauty into the home.

Most important of all, they'll see how family co-operation can bring about improvements that everybody can benefit by and enjoy.

Local Film Recommended For Families

The Ten Commandments, a movie playing at a local theatre, is a film we hope everyone will get a chance to see.

The movie is very stirring, telling of the life of Moses. A person sitting in the audience feels as if he were also taking part in it.

The scenes are beautiful and magnificent. During the 3½ hour movie, there is not a time when a person is not sitting on the edge of his seat.

So many modern movies are not of the family type. This one is one the whole family will enjoy.

With graduation almost here for the seniors of county and Circleville High Schools, it is time to start planning for the future ahead.

Some will be entering college in the fall and others are planning the jobs they hope to obtain. No matter what the plans are, remember always to put your best foot forward.

For you who are seeking employment, good grooming is one of the most important features taken into consideration. An appealing voice also is helpful.

Choose clothing that is conservative nothing that you might use for dress up occasions. Gloves and hats are considered in good taste.

In choosing your job, consider the good and bad points. Also ask yourself if it is one you would be happy doing. An important part of a job is being happy in what you are doing.

Crisp, cool summer blouses are seen in many of the local downtown stores.

In one of the stores they are featuring quite a few in the Ship'n Shore line. The blouses are perfect for summer, no-iron in dacron and pima.

Some of the few shown are the French-look blouson with new easy lines and flattering rounded collar. Woven checks with a French-line collar featuring top-notched shoulders.

A casual sleeveless golfer with exclusive tee-tab pocket, has a convertible collar and long stay-put tails. Woven herringbone stripes featuring a smart mitred collar, twin-set buttons and top-notched shoulders.

Weeky Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicken will be served in many American homes this Sunday, judging from the offerings of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores.

Broilers and fryers are economical, simple to prepare and versatile, home economists point out.

Chicken prices this week are lower in many areas, with reductions running from 2 to 10 cents a pound. Pork chops, on the other hand, are higher by the same range in many places. Sirloin, rib roast, veal chops and leg of lamb also tend upward this week, although the advances are not as widespread. Eggs are one to three cents a dozen lower generally.

Chuck roast, a recession favorite, also will be featured in some areas. A lengthy list of fish will be specials in fish-favoring sections, while the barbecue season has brought out offerings of frankfurters and spareribs.

Outstanding bargains among plentiful supplies of fresh vegetables are green onions and radishes, while asparagus and yellow sweet corn also are excellent buys. The latter is slightly higher this week

Potatoes are quite reasonable with dwindling supplies from last fall's Maine crop augmented by new California long whites and Florida reds.

Tomatoes are a little cheaper, but still on the high side of a good buy in most places.

Strawberries, pineapples and bananas — a good running start on a tasty fruit salad — are the best buys at fruit counters.

Pennsy May Sidetrack Some Passenger Trains

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad notified the Utilities Commission Wednesday it will discontinue two Cleveland to Cincinnati passenger trains June 29 but will add another Cleveland to Alliance train to take care of commutors who used the discontinued runs.

No one has publicly protested the Pennsylvania's plan to eliminate four small southwest Ohio stations, so the commission will probably allow it. The stations include Ogden in Clinton County and Hicks in Warren County.

Internal Unrest Plaguing Lebanon

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The violence in Lebanon can best be described as a political explosion basically rooted in domestic politics. The outs want to be in.

Ten years ago, the world would have paid little attention. Today, because of her geography, Lebanon's troubles have deep meaning for a world involved in cold war.

The quarrel was internal. But intruding upon this tiny stage were the Soviets and the Americans, the Communists and the anti-Communists, the pro-Nasser forces and the anti-Nasser element, the Christians and the Moslems.

Because the government of President Camille Chamoun has a reputation for being pro-Western, the West labeled all the opposition anti-Western. This was not so. Many in the opposition resented the implication. The West fell into this trap out of its old habit of attempting to define all events with handy labels. In the Middle East, Western labels seldom apply.

Outside pressures nagging at this strategically situated nation of 1½ million Christians and Moslems helped turn a domestic political fight into a fever of violence such as Lebanon has not known since she became independent in 1943.

Where did the violence come from? Everybody disclaims it. But bombs went off, and gun battles became commonplace in some areas. In the North, the army battled forces at Tripoli under opposition leader Rashid Karami, a pro-Syrian who posed a threat of seeking armed Syrian interference.

South of Beirut, the quarrel engulfed the Druze people. Half of them sided with the opposition and rallied to Kamal Jumblatt, a Druze politician. The other half sided with the government and followed the dashing figure of the Emir Mejid Arsalan.

Inside Beirut another opposition leader, former Prime Minister Saeb Salam, holed up behind stone barricades in a yellow building, an eagle's nest in the heart of Beirut's Moslem quarter. Tough young men with tommyguns protected him.

Salam denies he is anti-Western but complained Washington was forcing him into anti-Western attitudes by supporting Chamoun and Foreign Minister Charles Malik. He would welcome U.S. economic aid, he said, if Chamoun were out of office. But he claimed U.S. aid was entrenching the President.

New Sputnik Labeled as Final Evidence

CLEVELAND (AP) — A leading nuclear scientist says the launching of Sputnik III was final evidence that the security of the United States is "measured in minutes."

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a leader in the wartime Manhattan Project who later directed nuclear scientific branches for the War Department, said Wednesday night the launching of the latest Russian satellite eliminated all doubt that the Soviet Union had an intercontinental ballistic missile.

He addressed some 650 persons at the annual banquet of the American Foundrymen's Society.

The recent firing of a 3,000-pound satellite, he said, was evidence that Russia could fire nuclear missiles from its bases to this country in 20 to 30 minutes.

Hydrogen bomb tests conducted by the United States in 1954, when a Japanese fishing boat 100 miles away was contaminated, showed that the accuracy of ICBMs with hydrogen warheads was no longer an important military problem, Lapp added.

He said efforts to end the atomic race should be intensified and expressed the opinion that a ban on nuclear tests probably was possible since Russia had as much to lose as this country.

Famed Polar Ship Is Doomed

By ARTHUR SCHOLES
Central Press Association Correspondent

SYDNERY, Australia —Lincoln Ellsworth's famous Antarctic exploration ship, Wyatt Earp, has reached the end of her days.

Ellsworth named the sturdy wooden vessel after a boyhood hero, fast-shooting Wyatt Earp, a U. S. marshal of the frontier days.

Sir Hubert Wilkins, co-leader of the great expedition of 1934-1935 when Ellsworth made the historic trans-Antarctic flight, used the ship as his headquarters vessel.

After Ellsworth had returned to Australia in January, 1936, aboard the research ship Discovery II—which had been engaged in a widespread search for him—the Australian government took over the vessel.

During the war years the Wyatt Earp took on a new role and was commissioned as a boom defense vessel in the Royal Australian navy.

After the war the vessel was presented to the Australian National Antarctic Research expedition and soon returned to familiar Antarctic waters.

She took part in the Antarctic operations in 1947-1948, but was found to be unsuitable to modern conditions and was retired from polar service. The old vessel is now tied up in the small fishing port of Eden, in southern New South Wales. The ship called in at Eden after she had sprung a leak on a voyage from Tasmania.

Crewmen said caulking from the ship's seams had blocked the pumps. Engineers started the pumps again, but when the vessel arrived off Eden, she signalled the pilot station that she was in danger of sinking.

Two surveyors of the department of navigation will go to Eden to investigate the ship's condition.

A member of the crew said the Wyatt Earp, built in 1919, was unseaworthy and that members of the crew had signed a statement to this effect.

The crew claimed that the vessel had been short of provisions on its trip from Devonport, Tasmania, and they had lived on lobsters. The ship was carrying a cargo of potatoes and canned peas. A syndicate of Tasmanian potato growers now owns the vessel.

Ellsworth originally bought the ship from the Norwegian builders. He used it to make four exploratory voyages to the South Polar seas. In 1939 the Australian government paid $11,000 for the vessel, and renamed it the Wongala.

The ship reverted to her original name, Wyatt Earp, when she went down to the Antarctic again in 1947. As a potato carrier, the ship has been known as the Natone.

Shipping authorities fear the old ship has come to the end of her days, and doubt whether she will be granted another certificate of seaworthiness.

Ohio Lutherans Rap Segregation

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The Ohio Synod of the United Lutheran Church has taken a firm stand against segregation.

The Synod declared its support of a resolution offered by its Social Missions Committee, saying:

"The gospel of Jesus Christ is for all men. No human conditions or differences in physical characteristics or social background may be used to deny men membership or fellowship in the church."

The Synod then admonished all connected with the Synod and its 308 congregations "to examine their own practices in the light of this declaration."

HST Censors Crack About Ike's Golf

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Truman eliminated a crack about President Eisenhower's golf when he made a tape recording of a radio script sent him by the Democratic National Committee.

A radio panel show with Truman as quizmaster was broadcast Tuesday night as part of "democratic Party Night." Most of the show was recorded here last month, but suggested questions and comments by Truman were sent to him for recording in Independence, Mo., his home.

One suggested Truman comment was written to come in after a remark by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt about high prices of consumer items.

"You are so right, Mrs. Roosevelt, on this mounting cost of living," the committee script had Truman saying. "Nonessential items have also skyrocketed in prices. I am certain that the present occupant of the White House knows that the cost of golf balls has increased 25 per cent since 1952."

Truman's version, with no mention of presidential golf: "Mrs. Roosevelt, you are so right, and come voting time the people will have something to say about that."

Committee officials said they did not know why Truman made the change.

Nation's Price Structure Now Showing Cracks

Living Cost Index Continues Upward Despite Warnings

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The still rising cost of living plagues more people than its strange stable mate, the slowdown in industrial output.

And President Eisenhower has warned a gathering of leading industrialists against going along with the theory that just because prices have kept rising steadily for so long "the consumer is not price conscious anymore."

He also has reminded them that the nation's great economic strides in the past were due to "the daring of this nation's businessmen in pricing for volume and taking their chances on profits."

Others have gone much further along this road than the President.

Some have criticized the pricing policies of industry, holding that liberal wage raises were handed out freely because management felt prices could be hiked without any protest from the consumers.

Some doubt if the industrial recession will be licked until the cost of living comes down enough to let people buy again.

The government's consumer price index, due shortly, is expected to show another rise, with food prices still high and the cost of services continuing its slow but steady rise.

But cracks in the price structure are beginning to show. They have come in industrial materials which many companies can get now for less than they had to pay a while back.

Lately, weakness in sales volume has brought some changes. There have been a few price cuts, but mostly the price concessions have taken the form of discounts or the dropping of extra charges or cutting the costs of services.

At the retail level lower prices, when they happened, were mostly at the expense of the merchant's profit margin or in special sales promotions. Consumers have found that shopping around often turned up bargains.

Most makers of consumer durables have insisted that sales weakness for their products hasn't been due to higher prices. But the search for other reasons hasn't been entirely convincing either.

So perhaps President Eisenhower was saying more than just a truism when he reminded his businessman audience that "a price policy designed to bring increasing volume should be nothing short of an article of faith for every buiness man."

Ohio 'Blue Laws' Seen Headed for High Court

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's 150-year-old "blue laws" are still constitutionally sound, the Ohio Supreme Court has decided, but the U. S. Supreme Court may get to state its views on the statutes.

Ohio's high court Wednesday refused to reconsider its April 30 decision upholding the laws that ban various businesses from operating on Sundays. But the action cleared the way for possible appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Young Tags Bricker As 'Old Line' GOP

SANDUSKY (AP)—Stephen Young of Cleveland, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, has criticized Republican Sen. John W. Bricker as an old line Republican dedicated to "high interest rates, higher prices for consumers, unemployment, and misfortune for small businessmen."

Young, former congressman-at-large, addressed a Democratic meeting at St. John's Hall here.

He said he strongly supported the St. Lawrence Seaway project as a benefit to every Ohio businessman, manufacturer, farmer and worker. Bricker, on the other hand, opposed the seaway, Young said in a "shameful and an amazing act contrary to the best interests of our citizens and against the welfare of the nation."

After 96 Years, a Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After 96 years and 363 days of being a model citizen, Frank H. Peyton observed his 97th birthday by paying a $5 fine for jaywalking.

All-Negro Colleges Needed, Belief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — All-Negro universities are still needed in this country no matter what the Supreme Court says, a distinguished Negro educator says.

"In such Deep South states as Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina there is almost a total lack of communication between the races," Dr. F. D. Patterson explained. "The private Negro colleges are often the only places in a community where the leaders of both races can meet together in an effort to ease tensions. The states have no control over what goes on at the private campuses."

Twin Brothers Slated To Become Priests

CLEVELAND (AP) — Twin brothers, the Revs. Kevin and Dermot Coleman of East Cleveland, will be ordained Roman Catholic priests May 31 in St. Patrick's Procathedral of the diocese of Youngstown by Bishop Emmet M. Walsh.

They will offer their first masses the next day in Christ the King Church in East Cleveland.

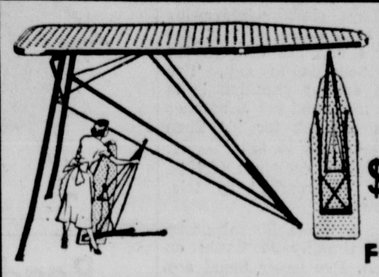

Ordination of twins at the same time is believed to be a first for the diocese of Cleveland.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband belongs to social groups, has friends, goes out, has fun and belongs. I have tried to make a go of PTA and groups of one sort or another—sewing, embroidery and ho bies—but nothing comes of it. I seem to get along famously at first, then fall flat on my face.

Years ago I had a very good friend and we fought. From then on I never could make a confidante of any woman. I get to a certain point, then mistrust enters the picture.

Also my husband was a "dese and dose" man and I married him from loneliness. We love each other dearly now, but during the earlier years I wouldn't and couldn't associate with anyone who didn't know him first, and take him for what he was.

I lost all my "halfway" friends along the line, picked up his and have gotten to a depth where now I have no confidence, and he has become more worldly.

Where do I go from here? I will read anything to get back some confidence—to make me even feel alive. Please, no psychiatrist.

A.B.

DEAR A.B.: You married your husband from loneliness, you say; and the problem is, you are still lonely. So your problem isn't of recent origin. It is simply accentuated by the fact that it stays the same, year after year.

You married beneath your station on the score of education, primariy because you lacked the self-confidence to bid for a better fate, or aspire to something higher, I suppose. You settled gratefully for the man who looked up to you as somebody special—and evidently it wasn't entirely a wrong choice, since you love each other dearly now.

As for how to muster self-confidence, I have two suggestions:

1. Read "Body, Mind Sugar" (Holt) by Dr. E. M. Abrahamson and A. W. Pezet — which illuminates the effects on personality of blood sugar starvation. A chronic sense of personal inadequacy, leading to neurotic withdrawal from society, is but one of many distressing symptoms caused by this modern day ailment. The authors present the Dr. Seale Harris diet that corrects that condition and introduces well being.

2. Read any book, to your taste, that focusses your mind on God, or the creative source of all life, and thus brings you into line with spiritual replenishment. Remember that Scriptures, the inspired Word of God, tells us that we are all branches of the Vine; and the Vine is the Son of God, the Second Person of the Trinity (the Godhead)—who is the channel of every strength and help we need. In short, learn to pray—meditatively, mentally—while alertly acting on guidance given; and so solve your problem, a step at a time.

Books that foster mental prayer are "The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life" (Revel) by Hannah Whittal Smith; "The Sermon on The Mount" (Harpers) by Emmet Fox; "A Map of Life" (Sheed & Ward) by Frank J. Sheed — to name a few.

M.H.

Dixie Baptist Segregation Views Hit

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Southern Baptists were under attack today by Texas segregationists who accused the denomination of fostering race-mixing trends.

A flood of literature, bearing the imprint of the State White Citizens Council, was distributed among the approximately 15,000 representatives to the denomination's annual convention.

The material cited the Scriptures seeking to show segregation was ordained by God. The printed charges also claimed that Baptist publications have an increasing integrationist content.

Several church leaders described the material variously as distorted, inaccurate or unfair.

At Wednesday night's sessions in the Houston Coliseum, many of the delegates read copies of the derogatory matter during the program.

A report on the racial situation calls for closer Baptist communication and fellowship with people of every race and nationality.

Re-election of Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) as convention president was considered by some as a victory for those favoring brotherly Southern Baptist relations with other churches.

Hays, a long-time church lay leader and a veteran House member, was re-elected overwhelmingly.

Regarding race relationships, a keen issue among Southern Baptists, Hays has taken a moderate stand and has played a conciliatory role in his home state of Arkansas.

Scouts Given Honor Awards

Washington Twp. Boy Scout Troop 323 held a Court of Awards Tuesday evening.

Explorer awards and ratings were presented to Paul Saunders, who received a Gold Award and Ronald Moore, who received a Bronze Award, Aviation and Weather ratings.

Scout ranks and badges were awarded to the following: John Anderson, Star; Gary Hinton, Star and Cooking merit badge; Edward Clark, First Class; Fred Clark, Second Class, and Rusty Montgomery, Second Class.

Troop 323 has two Eagle Scouts, five Star Scouts, five First Class and four Second class scouts. It also has 90 merit badges.

Parents of the boys were present. Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Hinton were presented miniature awards by their sons.

Delfator of Pomposity Due To Examine Comedy on TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It's about time more Americans made the acquaintance of Mort Sahl, one of the nation's most delightful deflators of pomposity and pretentiousness. His only prop is today's newspaper. His only writer is curled in a lobe of Shal's brain.

As a matter of fact, you can meet Sahl next Sunday when Wide Wide World (NBC-TV) examines the state of comedy. It literally will be one of his rare TV appearances. Is that because television is scared of Sahl's humor, which wrily embraces politics among other matters?

"I would like to think television was scared of me," he said. "It would be flattering. But I think it's more likely that television isn't much aware of me. If it is aware, it comes down to finding a proper format for me."

Radio has found a most satisfying format for him, however, in Nightline (NBC radio, Tuesdays and Thursdays) when he comments on the news ("General Gavin was changing into civvies as he testified. . . .") and—well, just about anything. Scientific advances, for example:

"The most efficient use of radar seems to be not by the airlines or the military but by the police department. I belong to a sportscar club and we have an antiradar defense. We take the tinfoil from cigarette packages, place it in our hubcaps, and confuse all the radar devices."

Sahl, who makes $5,000 a week in night clubs and doesn't really need to go to television if television won't come to him, agrees that most performers are becoming excessively timid about speaking their minds on anything.

"A lot of them are becoming kind of intolerant," he said. "They say you're undisciplined if you speak your mind. When I say to them, 'I'm going to say what I think,' they start withdrawing from me as if I had leprosy. The only way I can get through the wall to them is to say, 'I've found the easiest gimmick is to speak my mind and get X number of dollars a week for it.' Then they want to talk to me."

Sahl definitey does not feel he has been "suppressed" by television, however.

"There's a whole liberal group who thinks timidity is based on suppression. I've never found any suppression in television, only apathy."

Akron Race Winner Ruled 'Drugged'

AKRON (AP)—The winner of the $10,000 Gold Cup at Ascot Park last Saturday, Our Venture, was drugged, track stewards announced today.

The stewards suspended Our Venture's owner, V. L. Boorom of Akron; the trainer, Charles H. Scaraville, of Hudson, and the groom, Joseph J. Morrison, pending action by the Ohio Racing Commission.

Twenty-three lengths off the pace at one point in the two-mile feature race, Our Venture nosed out Edward W. at the finish. The winner's share of the purse, $6,500, will be distributed among the next four finishers.

Tools, Gasoline Reported Stolen

J. E. Morris Jr., Route 1, New Holland, reported to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today that tools valued at $18 had been stolen from a tractor at his home Monday. He also reported that a lock had been broken on a 200-gallon storage tank and some gasoline stolen Tuesday.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband belongs to social groups, has friends, goes out, has fun and belongs. I have tried to make a go of PTA and groups of one sort or another—sewing, embroidery and ho bies—but nothing comes of it. I seem to get along famously at first, then fall flat on my face.

Years ago I had a very good friend and we fought. From then on I never could make a confidante of any woman. I get to a certain point, then mistrust enters the picture.

Also my husband was a "dese and dose" man and I married him from loneliness. We love each other dearly now, but during the earlier years I wouldn't and couldn't associate with anyone who didn't know him first, and take him for what he was.

I lost all my "halfway" friends along the line, picked up his and have gotten to a depth where now I have no confidence, and he has become more worldly.

Where do I go from here? I will read anything to get back some confidence—to make me even feel alive. Please, no psychiatrist.

A.B.

DEAR A.B.: You married your husband from loneliness, you say; and the problem is, you are still lonely. So your problem isn't of recent origin. It is simply accentuated by the fact that it stays the same, year after year.

You married beneath your station on the score of education, primarily because you lacked the self-confidence to bid for a better fate, or aspire to something higher, I suppose. You settled gratefully for the man who looked up to you as somebody special—and evidently it wasn't entirely a wrong choice, since you love each other dearly now.

As for how to muster self-confidence, I have two suggestions:

1. Read "Body, Mind Sugar" (Holt) by Dr. E. M. Abrahamson and A. W. Pezet — which illuminates the effects on personality of blood sugar starvation. A chronic sense of personal inadequacy, leading to neurotic withdrawal from society, is but one of many distressing symptoms caused by this modern day ailment. The authors present the Dr. Seale Harris diet that corrects that condition and introduces well being.

2. Read any book, to your taste, that focusses your mind on God, or the creative source of all life, and thus brings you into line with spiritual replenishment. Remember that Scriptures, the inspired Word of God, tells us that we are all branches of the Vine; and the Vine is the Son of God, the Second Person of the Trinity (the Godhead)—who is the channel of every strength and help we need. In short, learn to pray—meditatively, mentally—while alertly acting on guidance given; and so solve your problem, a step at a time.

Books that foster mental prayer are "The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life" (Revel) by Hannah Whittal Smith; "The Sermon on The Mount" (Harpers) by Emmet Fox; "A Map of Life" (Sheed & Ward) by Frank J. Sheed — to name a few.

M.H.

Scouts Given Honor Awards

Washington Twp. Boy Scout Troop 323 held a Court of Awards Tuesday evening.

Explorer awards and ratings were presented to Paul Saunders, who received a Gold Award and Ronald Moore, who received a Bronze Award, Aviation and Weather ratings.

Scout ranks and badges were awarded to the following: John Anderson, Star; Gary Hinton, Star and Cooking merit badge; Edward Clark, First Class; Fred Clark, Second Class, and Rusty Montgomery, Second Class.

Troop 323 has two Eagle Scouts, five Star Scouts, five First Class and four Second class scouts. It also has 90 merit badges.

Parents of the boys were present. Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Hinton were presented miniature awards by their sons.

Dixie Baptist Segregation Views Hit

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Southern Baptists were under attack today by Texas segregationists who accused the denomination of fostering race-mixing trends.

A flood of literature, bearing the imprint of the State White Citizens Council, was distributed among the approximately 15,000 representatives to the denomination's annual convention.

The material cited the Scriptures seeking to show segregation was ordained by God. The printed charges also claimed that Baptist publications have an increasing integrationist content.

Several church leaders described the material variously as distorted, inaccurate or unfair.

At Wednesday night's sessions in the Houston Coliseum, many of the delegates read copies of the derogatory matter during the program.

A report on the racial situation calls for closer Baptist communication and fellowship with people of every race and nationality.

Re-election of Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) as convention president was considered by some as a victory for those favoring brotherly Southern Baptist relations with other churches.

Hays, a long-time church lay leader and a veteran House member, was re-elected overwhelmingly.

Regarding race relationships, a keen issue among Southern Baptists, Hays has taken a moderate stand and has played a conciliatory role in his home state of Arkansas.

Delfator of Pomposity Due To Examine Comedy on TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It's about time more Americans made the acquaintance of Mort Sahl, one of the nation's most delightful deflators of pomposity and pretentiousness. His only prop is today's newspaper. His only writer is curled in a lobe of Shal's brain.

As a matter of fact, you can meet Sahl next Sunday when Wide Wide World (NBC-TV) examines the state of comedy. It literally will be one of his rare TV appearances. Is that because television is scared of Sahl's humor, which wrily embraces politics among other matters?

"I would like to think television was scared of me," he said. "It would be flattering. But I think it's more likely that television isn't much aware of me. If it is aware, it comes down to finding a proper format for me."

Radio has found a most satisfying format for him, however, in Nightline (NBC radio, Tuesdays and Thursdays) when he comments on the news ("General Gavin was changing into civvies as he testified. . . ."); and—well, just about anything. Scientific advances, for example:

"The most efficient use of radar seems to be not by the airlines or the military but by the police department. I belong to a sportscar club and we have an antiradar defense. We take the tinfoil from cigarette packages, place it in our hubcaps, and confuse all the radar devices."

Sahl, who makes $5,000 a week in night clubs and doesn't really need to go to television if television won't come to him, agrees that most performers are becoming excessively timid about speaking their minds on anything.

"A lot of them are becoming kind of intolerant," he said. "They say you're undisciplined if you speak your mind. When I say to them, 'I'm going to say what I think,' they start withdrawing from me as if I had leprosy. The only way I can get through the wall to them is to say, 'I've found the easiest gimmick is to speak my mind and get X number of dollars a week for it.' Then they want to talk to me."

Sahl definitey does not feel he has been "suppressed" by television, however.

"There's a whole liberal group who thinks timidity is based on suppression. I've never found any suppression in television, only apathy."

Health Hints For Summer

Board Issues Water Warning

The Circleville Board of Health today warned the public of the seasonal hazards that will face them during the summer months.

Many family picnics will be held and persons participating should take safe drinking water with them to be on the safe side. If families are picnicking in state parks or picnic areas water found there usually will be safe.

Picnic food that has been cooked before leaving should be eaten within a reasonable length of time. Cold food items should also be eaten soon. Hot or cold food allowed to linger long is apt to spoil, causing food poisoning.

Upon reaching the picnicking area the first thing that should be done is to check for sanitary facilities and safe drinking water.

* * *

EVERYONE should learn to identify poison ivy and oak, which is particularly hazardous at this time of year when the sap is most abundant.

An important health item for parents to check is polio shots. The polio season is nearing (danger period is from June to September when swimming is a favorite sport) and records should be checked to see if each child has received his third booster shot.

While county school children received their third polio shot from the Pickaway County Health Department, the Circleville students were asked to go to their family doctor for the booster shot. Many families may have forgotten to do this and are asked to check this immediately by the Health Department.

Parents are also warned that polio has no age limit. An Ashville mother, Mrs. Peggy Pollock, 23, Route 1, Ashville, contacted this dreaded disease on May 3 and is now dividing her time between a hospital bed and an iron lung to stay alive in Children's Hospital.

The Pickaway Health Department has checked the records and found that Mrs. Pollock received no polio shots although the rest of her family had, including her husband.

Tetanus shots are also important during the summer season when many children abandon their shoes to walk in their bare feet.

An electrical shock, says the United States Department of Agriculture, produces faster germination in giving corn a quick growth. But, it has to be done by an expert.

ENVOY'S DAUGHTER ATTACKED—Frieda Abdoh, 16, daughter of Iran's chief delegate to the United Nations, holds a dress that was slashed by one of two teen-age girls in a knife attack in the Bronx, N. Y., Botanical Gardens. Frieda had been walking with her sister, Masty (right), 12, at the time. Their father, Ambassador Djalal Abdoh, said there would be no "diplomatic repercussions" and added, "It's one of those things that could happen almost anywhere." (International)

3 Collegians Suspended for Cross Burning

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Three Wooster College freshmen involved in a cross-burning near the campus this week were suspended by the college Wednesday. Seven others were placed on probation.

William Warden of Swarthmore, Pa., Tommy McBurnie of North Syracuse, N. Y., and George Minas of Pasadena, Calif., were suspended for the fall semester. They and the seven placed on probation were fined in Municipal Court earlier on charges of disturbing the peace.

The 10 were accused of burning a three-foot wire and paper cross Monday night on the sidewalk in front of the home of 86-year-old Mrs. Mary Anfang.

Fined $50 and costs—with $25 of each suspended — were Warden, McBurnie, Minas, Don Bader of Mount Gilead, Fred Fenko of Akron, David Killebrew of Coloma, Mich., and Ken Squires of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Fined $25 and costs—with $15 suspended—were Dale Ray Jr. of Barberton, Jack Kimberly of Akron and Wayne Bloxon of Houston, Tex.

The students testified Mrs. Anfang had scolded them about the parking of an automobile across her sidewalk, but claimed the car did not belong to any of them.

"We thought the woman was a crank," Killebrew testified. "We had no idea of her age. We thought, what the heck, we were going down there and have some fun."

Woodsville Quarry Is Hit by Strike

FREMONT (AP)—Some 200 members of the United Stone Workers Union struck Ohio Lime Co. at nearby Woodville Wednesday for higher wages.

Without a contract since last Thursday, the workers voted Tuesday night for the strike after turning down a company proposal.

A. H. Nieman, president of the company, said the workers are seeking a 9-cent hourly pay boost. Current scales were not available.

Dimestore Demonstrator:

Pace Is Fast, Work Hard, But Rewards Can Be Large

KANSAS CITY (AP) — There is a crowd so thick around the counter it's impossible to get through the aisle. The woman demonstrator is chopping cabbage and talking about the tool she uses.

"You will save the price of it in one meal," she says. "And you will use it to prepare foods you wouldn't bother to fix if you had to chop everything by hand."

When someone buys, she quickly wraps a chopper, keeping up her commentary to the rest of the crowd.

Maybe you have envied these traveling saleswomen, maybe you feel sorry for them. But what kind of life do these women lead, what's it like to be a "dimestore demonstrator?"

Mrs. Olive Seidl, selling food choppers here, supplied answers frankly and willingly.

To see her at work, her trim white uniform contrasting with sparkling brown eyes and dark hair, you'd never guess that she has eight grandchildren or that she has been doing this work for 32 years. She has as much energy and enthusiasm for her job as if she were just starting—and she needs it.

"Most of us work only eight months a year," she said. "You have to have a rest between times —if you don't you will crack up.

"You've got to like people and not be afraid to approach them. You know, 9 out of 10 persons who come into a store don't come in to buy what you're selling. They haven't the faintest idea they're going to want it.

"To get a crowd, I start talking with some individual who stops, and then when several have gathered I start showing the tool. Sometimes you can hold a crowd for as long as two hours. I have to have an audience to work. Once I had to go on television for a demonstration. It was horrible, I nearly fainted. I was talking to nobody. I love a crowd — 50 or 60, the more the merrier."

Demonstrators sell an unbelievable amount of merchandise. An income of $11,000 for the eight months is not unusual.

"We work entirely on commission," Mrs. Seidl said.

And it isn't hard to get a job. "Once you're a demonstrator, businesses come to you."

In the summer months, Mrs. Seidl rents concessions in state or county fairs, about seven of them a year.

"The nice thing is, you can go where you want to — follow the good weather. You can stay in one city as long as business holds up."

And what does a demonstrator do on her days off?

"When I'm not working, I love to go and watch other demonstrators," says Mrs. Seidl. "I learn a lot that way."

Mrs. Seidl got her start "sampling" for a meat packer. This means offering a taste of the product to customers in food markets.

In her four months rest period, Mrs. Seidl has a very different sort of life. She and her husband, George, who is a landscape architect, live on their 122-acre farm at Shakopee, Minn., near Minneapolis, where they raise Christmas trees.

The narrow Naruto Channel connects Japan's Inland Sea with the Pacific Ocean. It has numerous whirlpools caused by a 13-knot riptide.

25 Men Seeking Flemming's Job

DELAWARE (AP) — A committee that will pick Dr. Arthur S. Flemming's successor as president of Ohio Wesleyan University has received 25 nominations so far, Charles B. Mills, chairman of the board of trustees, says.

Flemming will resign Aug. 1 to accept appointment as U.S. Secretary of Welfare.

Mills discounted reports that the next president would have to be a clergyman. Flemming was the first laymen in 105 years to hold the presidency.

Evangelist Pleads For Ailing France

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says the world's heart should go out to troubled France.

"The flower of her youth which should be in leadership today lie buried on the banks of the Marne," he said.

The energetic blond preacher, now in the fourth week of his well-attended San Francisco crusade, told an audience of 13,500 in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace that "No country has paid a higher price for freedom than France. Long live France!"

Fined Mother To Let Court Care for Kids

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — Found guilty of speeding, Mrs. Barbara Mistyhn of Princeton was sentenced to 30 days or $30. She later collared the court clerk with her six daughters in tow, said "I can't afford to pay the fine. You take care of them while I go to jail." The clerk promised to see the judge for alternatives.

Dimestore Demonstrator:

Pace Is Fast, Work Hard, But Rewards Can Be Large

KANSAS CITY (AP) — There is a crowd so thick around the counter it's impossible to get through the aisle. The woman demonstrator is chopping cabbage and talking about the tool she uses.

"You will save the price of it in one meal," she says. "And you will use it to prepare foods you wouldn't bother to fix if you had to chop everything by hand."

When someone buys, she quickly wraps a chopper, keeping up her commentary to the rest of the crowd.

Maybe you have envied these traveling saleswomen, maybe you feel sorry for them. But what kind of life do these women lead, what's it like to be a "dimestore demonstrator?"

Mrs. Olive Seidl, selling food choppers here, supplied answers frankly and willingly.

To see her at work, her trim white uniform contrasting with sparkling brown eyes and dark hair, you'd never guess that she has eight grandchildren or that she has been doing this work for 32 years. She has as much energy and enthusiasm for her job as if she were just starting—and she needs it.

"Most of us work only eight months a year," she said. "You have to have a rest between times —if you don't you will crack up.

"You've got to like people and not be afraid to approach them. You know, 9 out of 10 persons who come into a store don't come in to buy what you're selling. They haven't the faintest idea they're going to want it.

"To get a crowd, I start talking with some individual who stops, and then when several have gathered I start showing the tool. Sometimes you can hold a crowd for as long as two hours. I have to have an audience to work. Once I had to go on television for a demonstration. It was horrible, I nearly fainted. I was talking to nobody. I love a crowd — 50 or 60, the more the merrier."

Demonstrators sell an unbelievable amount of merchandise. An income of $11,000 for the eight months is not unusual.

"We work entirely on commission," Mrs. Seidl said.

And it isn't hard to get a job. "Once you're a demonstrator, businesses come to you."

In the summer months, Mrs. Seidl rents concessions in state or county fairs, about seven of them a year.

"The nice thing is, you can go where you want to — follow the good weather. You can stay in one city as long as business holds up."

And what does a demonstrator do on her days off?

"When I'm not working, I love to go and watch other demonstrators," says Mrs. Seidl. "I learn a lot that way."

Mrs. Seidl got her start "sampling" for a meat packer. This means offering a taste of the product to customers in food markets.

In her four months rest period, Mrs. Seidl has a very different sort of life. She and her husband, George, who is a landscape architect, live on their 122-acre farm at Shakopee, Minn., near Minneapolis, where they raise Christmas trees.

25 Men Seeking Flemming's Job

DELAWARE (AP) — A committee that will pick Dr. Arthur S. Flemming's successor as president of Ohio Wesleyan University has received 25 nominations so far, Charles B. Mills, chairman of the board of trustees, says.

Flemming will resign Aug. 1 to accept appointment as U.S. Secretary of Welfare.

Mills discounted reports that the next president would have to be a clergyman. Flemming was the first laymen in 105 years to hold the presidency.

Evangelist Pleads For Ailing France

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says the world's heart should go out to troubled France.

"The flower of her youth which should be in leadership today lie buried on the banks of the Marne," he said.

The energetic blond preacher, now in the fourth week of his well-attended San Francisco crusade, told an audience of 13,500 in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace that "No country has paid a higher price for freedom than France. Long live France!"

Fined Mother To Let Court Care for Kids

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — Found guilty of speeding, Mrs. Barbara Mistyhn of Princeton was sentenced to 30 days or $30. She later collared the court clerk with her six daughters in tow, said "I can't afford to pay the fine. You take care of them while I go to jail." The clerk promised to see the judge for alternatives.

Ashville Eighth Grade Program Due

The annual Ashville - Harrison Eighth Grade Commencement will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the school auditorium.

A total of 37 students will receive their diplomas advancing them to high school.

The processional will be played by Everett Mehrley at the organ and David Stuck at the piano while pupils are marching to their seats. The Invocation will be given by Rev. Carl Groff.

After the class song by the graduates a flute trio will be given by Nancy Featheringham, Kathy Stout and Weston Flierl. David Cooper and Katharine Gardner will play a trumpet and clarinet duet.

Stanley J. Bowers, state tax commissioner, will be the guest speaker. Miss Stout and Mehrley will follow with a piano - organ duet. Eighth grade Principal, Ed W. Irwin will present the certificates and awards.

The Benediction will be given by Rev. Groff. A postlude will be played by Mehrley and Stuck.

* * *

MISS KATHY STOUT will receive a state certificate for placing in the upper one per cent in the state in the eighth grade tests.

Students receiving eighth grade test certificates for placing in the top 25 per cent of the county will be: Michael Courtright, Jacqueline Kitchen, Phillip Scherer, Janet LeMaster, Katharine Gardner, Gladys Little, Marilyn Goldsberry, Tommy Cline, Nancy Featheringham and Tom Rathburn.

Scholarship medals, for placing in the first 10 in the state eighth grade tests in the county, will be awarded Miss Stout, Weston Flierl, Jim Rathburn and Virginia Erlandson.

Home Ec Prof Practices Cooking Art She Preaches

OMAHA (AP) — Margaret P. Killian is one woman who practices what she preaches — "keep busy and you never have time to frown."

As chairman of the Department of Home Economics at the University of Omaha, Prof. Killian is known as a specialist on food — with accent on the unusual.

A firm believer that "the average girl will have only her family to worry about," she prepares students to cook on a small scale with confidence and a flair.

It's not unusual for her to arrive home at 5 p. m. and turn out a dinner she has described for an advanced class that day — quail under glass with wild rice.

"It's a matter of organizing," she explained. "Any busy woman can do the same."

Planning her meals before shopping Friday, she takes a few minutes on Sunday to work out the week's menus. When necessary, some main dishes are partially cooked in advance and frozen.

Prof. Killian keeps a 10-room home for her father and sister.

Besides 20 hours of classroom lectures in foods and related subjects, she teachers special courses for adults in subjects ranging from interior decoration to foreign cookery, speaks widely, sponsors a score of campus groups and events, and somehow finds time to grow roses.

During her non-scheduled hours, the telephone rings almost constantly with such problems as:

"I'm having a dinner party for 10. What shall I serve?"

To her students, she points out: "To get the most out of life, you must keep busy and keep learning. When the brain stops, you get bored."

With a 16-hour-a-day schedule, it's obvious Prof. Killian won't get bored.

Pickaway Grange Report

SALTCREEK VALLEY

Saltcreek Valley Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening with worthy master Francis Fraunfelter in charge. A report was given on the results of the stock sale dinner the grange served last Wednesday.

A donation was given to two appeals for aid. A donation was also given to the National Grange Youth Fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Anderson and committee served refreshment in the cafeteria. The tables were decorated with iris arrangements.

The next grange meeting will be June 3rd.

Mrs. Dern Hurt In Auto Crash

Mrs. Helen Dern, 47, Route 4, was injured slightly at 10 a. m. yesterday in an accident at E. Main and Pickaway Sts.

She suffered a right shoulder injury in the mishap. Mrs. Dern told police that she was driving her car south on Pickaway St., had the green light, and was hit in the side by a truck driven by Woodrow Wilson Glaman, 40, Webster City, Iowa.

Glaman told police he didn't see the traffic light.

Tribe's Big 4 Are Gone, But Team Is Stubborn

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No Herb Score. No Bob Lemon. No Early Wynn. And very very little of Mike Garcia, the last of Cleveland's Big Four.

Only Ray Narleski, Don Mossi, Cal McLish and Hoyt Wilhelm, four rescued reliefers. And such practically unknowns as Jim Grant, Don Ferrarese, Bob Kelly and Dick Tomanek. Yet the Indians are putting up a stubborn battle.

They demonstrated that again Wednesday when they turned back Boston 3-2 in 12 innings. Tomanek, an unheralded left-hander, went all the way. The victory boosted Cleveland back into fourth place.

Baltimore made it two straight over Detroit with an 8-1 triumph while Kansas City was beaten by Washington 6-1. The New York Yankees continued their massacre of the rest of the league by defeating the Chicago White Sox 5-2.

Gus Triandos and Gene Woodling drove in three runs each to help the Orioles inflict the seventh straight loss on the Tigers. Triandos rapped two home runs and Woodling a homer and a single. Ken Lehman won his first game with a nifty relief chore.

Home runs by Ken Aspromonte, Jim Lemon and Norm Zauchin spelled defeat for Ralph Terry of the Athletics. Russ Kemmerer posted his first victory with a four-hitter.

Home runs also paved the way for the Yankees' eighth straight victory. After Chicago had taken a 2-0 lead on four-baggers by Jim Landis and Al Smith, the Yankees tied the score on Elston Howard's two run blow in the fifth and tallied the winning runs when Gil McDougald tagged Billy Pierce for a three-run wallop in the sixth.

Whitey Ford won his fourth in six decisions with a nine-hitter. Pierce, who has won only one game this season, dropped his fourth.

Robin Roberts is back where he belongs—among the elite of the pitching fraternity.

Once the premier pitcher of the National League, Roberts won only 10 while losing 22 last year. There were widespread rumors that his days with the Philadelphia Phillies were numbered.

It was not until his last exhibition start this past spring that the 31-year-old Roberts was assured of a starting berth again.

Now Robbie the great is Philadelphia's fair-haired boy again. Wednesday night when he hurled the Phillies to a spine-tingling 1-0 triumph over red-hot St. Louis. Furthermore, he broke up a scoreless duel with Sam Jones with a ringing eight-inning double that drove in the lone run.

The San Francisco Giants defeated Cincinnati 5-4 in 10 innings to increase their first-place margin over Milwaukee to 2½ games. Los Angeles made it two in a row over the Braves, 2-1 and Chicago thrashed Pittsburgh 5-1.

Willie Mays won the game for the Giants with a 10th-inning home run, his 12th of the season. Willie also had two singles and his sacrifice fly brought in the tying run in the seventh when the Giants wiped out a 4-2 Cincinnati lead. Marv Grissom, third Giants pitcher, received credit for the victory with Hal Jeffcoat losing it.

Gino Cimoli drove in both Dodger runs with his fifth home run in the first inning and cut down Milwaukee's bid for a tie in the seventh with a strong throw from center field that nipped Wes Covington at the plate. Don Drysdale won his second game for Los Angeles. Bob Ruth lost it.

Walt Moryn drove in three runs with a home run and single and Taylor Phillips hurled a five-hitter for his second triumph in Chicago's victory over Pittsburgh. Bob Porterfield was the loser.

Oilers Down Laurelville

Chillicothe Nine Posts 10-1 Win

River Oil of Chillicothe won its second game in as many nights by posting a 10-1 decision over Lahrelville in the local softball league last night at Ted Lewis Park.

Tuesday night the RO nine downed Cirsleville Merchants, 8-0, and came back last night to record win numberfour without a defeat i nloop play.

Winning pitcher Farnham, who also earned the decision Tuesday night, allowed only three hits and fanned 12.

All three of the hits were collected by Laurelville's Eveland. His one-man show included a homerun, triple and single.

* * *

RIVER Oil, meanwhile, was pounding the ball for 10 safe blows with seven of them going for extra bases. Minser had a homerun and a double, Delong blasted a three-bagger and a fouble, Tippie smacked two doubles and Bryant one.

Six errors by Laurelville proved disastrous. River Oil committed one bobble.

The winners scored in every inning but the sixth. They tallied once in the first frame, three times in the second, once in the third, three more in the fourth and two in the fifth.

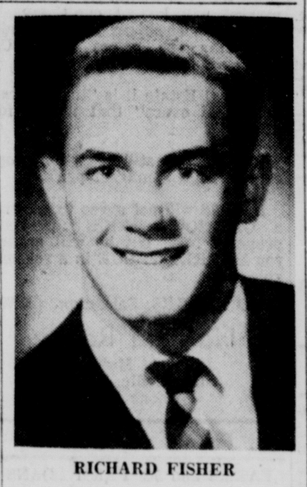

Laurelville picked up its single run in the third on Eveland's circuit blow.

Two more games are carded Friday. Yellow Bud takes on Circleville Merchants and General Electric meets Laurelville.

RICHARD FISHER

Fisher Named To Baseball Job at CHS

Dick Fisher, Circleville High School teacher and member of the athletic staff, has been named head baseball coach it was announced today by Superintendent of Schools George Hartman.

Fisher will take over the reins left vacant by Coach Dick Boyd who has accepted a head basketball job at Warren High School.

The head baseball job here will not be a new experience for Fisher who has been serving this season as an assistant to Coach Boyd.

Fisher also served the past season as an assistant football tutor to head Coach Tom Bennett. This marks the new baseball coaches first year at CHS.

He is a graduate of Capital University where he starred as a fullback on the grid squad. As expected, he is a baseball enthusiast.

Hogan Said Sharp For National Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Ben Hogan, known on the tournament circuit as The Hawk, has his claws sharpened for a grab at his fifth National Open championship.

"I never have seen Ben play better," said Claude Harmon, just back from the tournament at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. "I wouldn't bet against him at Tulsa."

Hogan finished third in the tourney last weekend, just a shot back of his old rival, Sam Snead, and young Gary Player of South Africa, who tied with 264. Snead won the title in a playoff.

Durelle Collects Easy Decision

MONTREAL (AP)—Yvon Durelle, pointing for renewed recognition as a contender for the world's lightheavyweight title, chased and pounded Germinal Ballarin of France Wednesday night for a unanimous 10-round decision.

The Canadian and British Empire champion from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., carried the fight and had things pretty much his own way. He scored the only knockdown, a mandatory eight count in the 10th round.

Ballarin's best efforts were a fair left and the ability to shuttle backwards about as fast as Durelle could pursue.

14 Americans Sign For British Test

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Fourteen Americans will compete in the 63rd British Amateur golf championships, June 2-7, and four have drawn seeded positions.

Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia, Harold Ridgley of Haverford, Pa., and Tim Holland of Rockville Centre, N. Y., are the seeded Americans.

Tigers Host Greenfield

Circleville's Tiger baseball nine winds up a successful season today when Greenfield romes to Ted Lewis Park for the fial game of the season.

The Tigers will be seeking win number 14 in a season which has produced only three losses. The test will have no league bearing for the Tigers who captured the South Central Ohio loop championship last week.

Circleville already owns a victory over the McClain baseballers who were shutout, 4-0, at Greenfield earlier in the season.

Today's test will mark the final high school appearance for Mike Hosler, Bill Dickenson, John Wright and Terry Barthelmas.

Coach Dick Boyd said he would name his starting pitcher at game time.

Local Pigeons Win First and Third

Fred Wolfe, a member of the Circleville Racing Pigeon Club, is the proud owner of birds which won first and third places in Central Ohio competition Sunday.

The field included 625 pigeons flying from 42 lofts. The race was from Winchester, Ky., a distance of 150 air miles.

Next week members of the Circleville Club will compete in flying competition starting at Corbin, Ky., a distance of 200 air miles.

Phillies Set Tryout Camp

Local baseballers are reminded of the Philadelphia Phillies professional baseball tryouts to be held May 30-31 at Miller Park in Lancaster.

The tryouts will begin at 9:30 a.m. each day. The sessions will be conducted by Tony Lucadello, scout for the Phillies.

Players participating are asked to bring their own uniforms, gloves and shoes. Other necessary equipment will be furnished.

Baseballers signed to contracts by the National League club will be reimbursed for expenses incidental to the tryouts.

The camp is open to all young baseballers except those ineligible to attend under high school and American Legion rules. Boys whose schools are still in session cannot participate.

Washington C.H. Pacer Is Winner

Forecaster's time was 2:09 and he paid $6.40, $4.80 and $2.80 through the mutuels.

LEBANON (AP) —Forecaster, a four-year-old gelding owned by Mrs. Guy Bock of Washington C. H., stood off two fast-closing rivals Wednesday night to win the feature Class B pace in a photo finish at Lebanon Raceway's harness race meeting.

Forecaster, driven by Hugh Beatty, led all the way but Peggy Barnes and Mel Stout came up fast in the stretch to finish second and third, respectively.

Jaycees Plan Golf, Election Meeting

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual election banquet and golf meet today at the Pickaway Country Club.

Golfing will start after 2 p. m. and the dinner and elections will be at 6:30 p. m. All members are asked to bring their ballots with them.

Player, DeVicenzo Favored in Meet

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Gary Player, a tough little competitor from South Africa, and the veteran Roberto De Vicenzo of Mexico City pose as championship threats in the $22,500 Kansas City Open golf tournament starting today.

Player won the recent Kentucky Derby Open in Louisville and was beaten in a sudden death playoff by Sam Snead in the Sam Snead tournament at White Sulphur Springs last weekend. A total of 127 players open the four-day meet.

Tribe's Big 4 Are Gone, But Team Is Stubborn

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No Herb Score. No Bob Lemon. No Early Wynn. And very very little of Mike Garcia, the last of Cleveland's Big Four.

Only Ray Narleski, Don Mossi, Cal McLish and Hoyt Wilhelm, four rescued reliefers. And such practically unknowns as Jim Grant, Don Ferrarese, Bob Kelly and Dick Tomanek. Yet the Indians are putting up a stubborn battle.

They demonstrated that again Wednesday when they turned back Boston 3-2 in 12 innings. Tomanek, an unheralded left-hander, went all the way. The victory boosted Cleveland back into fourth place.

Baltimore made it two straight over Detroit with an 8-1 triumph while Kansas City was beaten by Washington 6-1. The New York Yankees continued their massacre of the rest of the league by defeating the Chicago White Sox 5-2.

Gus Triandos and Gene Woodling drove in three runs each to help the Orioles inflict the seventh straight loss on the Tigers. Triandos rapped two home runs and Woodling a homer and a single. Ken Lehman won his first game with a nifty relief chore.

Home runs by Ken Aspromonte, Jim Lemon and Norm Zauchin spelled defeat for Ralph Terry of the Athletics. Russ Kemmerer posted his first victory with a four-hitter.

Home runs also paved the way for the Yankees' eighth straight victory. After Chicago had taken a 2-0 lead on four-baggers by Jim Landis and Al Smith, the Yankees tied the score on Elston Howard's two run blow in the fifth and tallied the winning runs when Gil McDougald tagged Billy Pierce for a three-run wallop in the sixth.

Whitey Ford won his fourth in six decisions with a nine-hitter. Pierce, who has won only one game this season, dropped his fourth.

Robin Roberts is back where he belongs—among the elite of the pitching fraternity.

Once the premier pitcher of the National League, Roberts won only 10 while losing 22 last year. There were widespread rumors that his days with the Philadelphia Phillies were numbered.

It was not until his last exhibition start this past spring that the 31-year-old Roberts was assured of a starting berth again.

Now Robbie the great is Philadelphia's fair-haired boy again. Wednesday night when he hurled the Phillies to a spine-tingling 1-0 triumph over red-hot St. Louis. Furthermore, he broke up a scoreless duel with Sam Jones with a ringing eight-inning double that drove in the lone run.

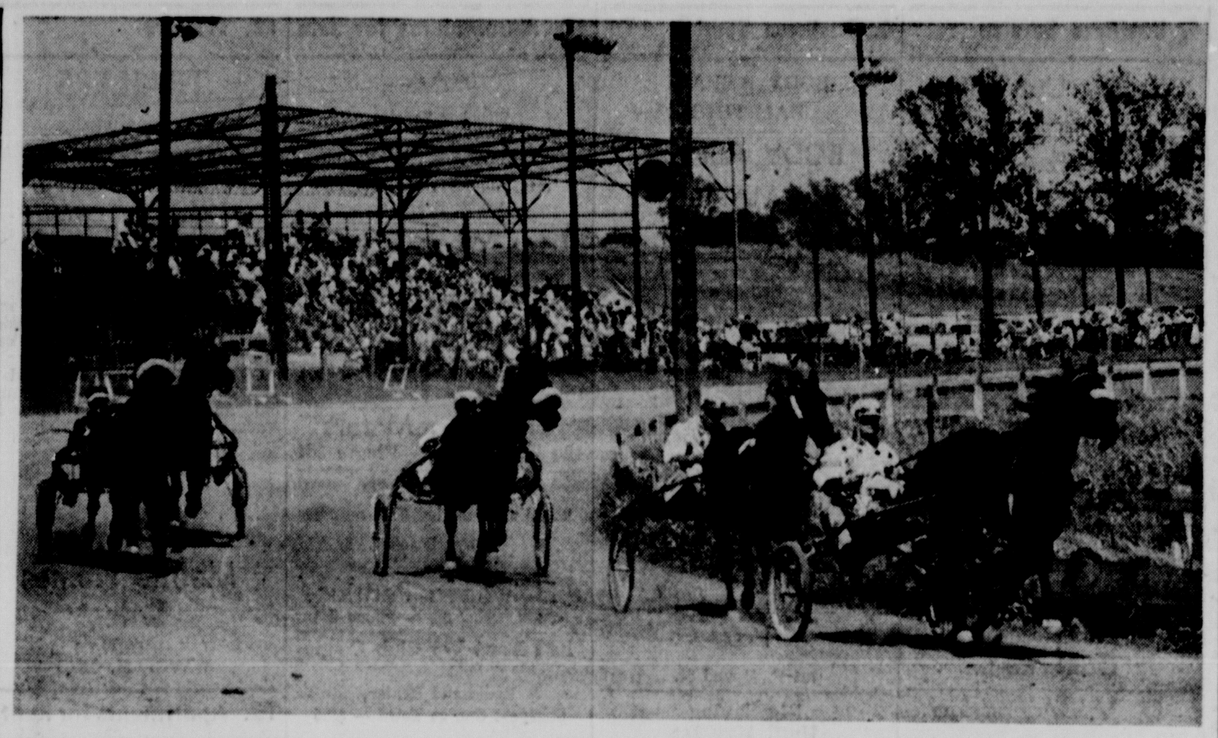

The San Francisco Giants defeated Cincinnati 5-4 in 10 innings to increase their first-place margin over Milwaukee to 2½ games. Los Angeles made it two in a row over the Braves, 2-1 and Chicago thrashed Pittsburgh 5-1.

Willie Mays won the game for the Giants with a 10th-inning home run, his 12th of the season. Willie also had two singles and his sacrifice fly brought in the tying run in the seventh when the Giants wiped out a 4-2 Cincinnati lead. Marv Grissom, third Giants pitcher, received credit for the victory with Hal Jeffcoat losing it.

Gino Cimoli drove in both Dodger runs with his fifth home run in the first inning and cut down Milwaukee's bid for a tie in the seventh with a strong throw from center field that nipped Wes Covington at the plate. Don Drysdale won his second game for Los Angeles. Bob Ruth lost it.

Walt Moryn drove in three runs with a home run and single and Taylor Phillips hurled a five-hitter for his second triumph in Chicago's victory over Pittsburgh. Bob Porterfield was the loser.

Oilers Down Laurelville

Chillicothe Nine Posts 10-1 Win

River Oil of Chillicothe won its second game in as many nights by posting a 10-1 decision over Lahrelville in the local softball league last night at Ted Lewis Park.

Tuesday night the RO nine downed Cirsleville Merchants, 8-0, and came back last night to record win numberfour without a defeat i nloop play.

Winning pitcher Farnham, who also earned the decision Tuesday night, allowed only three hits and fanned 12.

All three of the hits were collected by Laurelville's Eveland. His one-man show included a homerun, triple and single.

• • •

RIVER Oil, meanwhile, was pounding the ball for 10 safe blows with seven of them going for extra bases. Minser had a homerun and a double, Delong blasted a three-bagger and a fouble, Tippie smacked two doubles and Bryant one.

Six errors by Laurelville proved disastrous. River Oil committed one bobble.

The winners scored in every inning but the sixth. They tallied once in the first frame, three times in the second, once in the third, three more in the fourth and two in the fifth.

Laurelville picked up its single run in the third on Eveland's circuit blow.

Two more games are carded Friday. Yellow Bud takes on Circleville Merchants and General Electric meets Laurelville.

RICHARD FISHER

Fisher Named To Baseball Job at CHS

Dick Fisher, Circleville High School teacher and member of the athletic staff, has been named head baseball coach it was announced today by Superintendent of Schools George Hartman.

Fisher will take over the reins left vacant by Coach Dick Boyd who has accepted a head basketball job at Warren High School.

The head baseball job here will not be a new experience for Fisher who has been serving this season as an assistant to Coach Boyd.

Fisher also served the past season as an assistant football tutor to head Coach Tom Bennett. This marks the new baseball coaches first year at CHS.

He is a graduate of Capital University where he starred as a fullback on the grid squad. As expected, he is a baseball enthusiast.

Tigers Host Greenfield

Circleville's Tiger baseball nine winds up a successful season today when Greenfield romes to Ted Lewis Park for the fial game of the season.

The Tigers will be seeking win number 14 in a season which has produced only three losses. The test will have no league bearing for the Tigers who captured the South Central Ohio loop championship last week.

Circleville already owns a victory over the McClain baseballers who were shutout, 4-0, at Greenfield earlier in the season.

Today's test will mark the final high school appearance for Mike Hosler, Bill Dickenson, John Wright and Terry Barthelmas.

Coach Dick Boyd said he would name his starting pitcher at game time.

Durelle Collects Easy Decision

MONTREAL (AP)—Yvon Durelle, pointing for renewed recognition as a contender for the world's lightheavyweight title, chased and pounded Germinal Ballarin of France Wednesday night for a unanimous 10-round decision.

The Canadian and British Empire champion from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., carried the fight and had things pretty much his own way. He scored the only knockdown, a mandatory eight count in the 10th round.

Ballarin's best efforts were a fair left and the ability to shuttle backwards about as fast as Durelle could pursue.

14 Americans Sign For British Test

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Fourteen Americans will compete in the 63rd British Amateur golf championships, June 2-7, and four have drawn seeded positions.

Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia, Harold Ridgley of Haverford, Pa., and Tim Holland of Rockville Centre, N. Y., are the seeded Americans.

Hogan Said Sharp For National Open

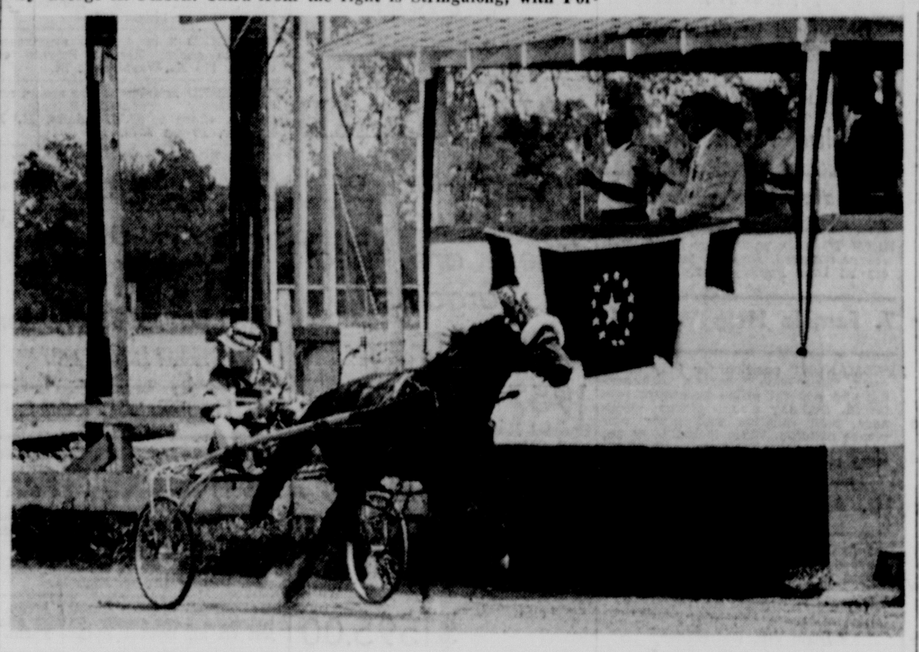

NEW YORK (AP) — Ben Hogan, known on the tournament circuit as The Hawk, has his claws sharpened for a grab at his fifth National Open championship.

"I never have seen Ben play better," said Claude Harmon, just back from the tournament at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. "I wouldn't bet against him at Tulsa."

Hogan finished third in the tourney last weekend, just a shot back of his old rival, Sam Snead, and young Gary Player of South Africa, who tied with 264. Snead won the title in a playoff.

To Sell or Not To Sell!
Now is the time to decide.
There is still time to get a fair price for your home. How long this market will last, I can't say. It is the "law of supply and demand" that sets the prices . . . PLUS man's financial ability.
In Real Estate it is "turn overs" not "hold overs" that makes for profit.
Hatfield can still sell your property at a good market price.
Hatfield will not agree to get you a GLORIOUS PRICE for your property . . . but he will assure you MARKET VALUE in a reasonable time.

To Sell or Not To Sell!
Now is the time to decide.
There is still time to get a fair price for your home. How long this market will last, I can't say. It is the "law of supply and demand" that sets the prices . . . PLUS man's financial ability.
In Real Estate it is "turn overs" not "hold overs" that makes for profit.
Hatfield can still sell your property at a good market price.
Hatfield will not agree to get you a GLORIOUS PRICE for your property . . . but he will assure you MARKET VALUE in a reasonable time.

MISS ENGLAND 'II' — Wendy Peters, 22, wears a happy smile and crown as "Miss England" after being chosen in London. Wendy, a model, got her title after June Cooper, 17, abdicated. There was some discussion about Wendy's win, in that she wore a "waspy," a bit of apparel around waist which aids nature. (International)

Kindergarten Sign-Up Set For City Schools Tuesday

Final plans for Circleville Kindergarten Registration Day on Tuesday for those children who will enter kindergarten in September, were announced today by George Hartman, Superintendent of City Schools.

Registration centers will be Walnut Street School for all pupils, including Mill Street, south. The Franklin Street School for all pupils north of Mill Street, including High Street, the Bloomdale addition, and Fairview Avenue, plus all territory adjacent to the fair grounds.

The Atwater School for all pupils living north of High Street and Bloomdale. The kindergarten pupils from Knollwood Village will register at the Franklin Street School. The kindergarten pupils from Wayne Township will register at the Walnut School.

Pupils whose last names begin with the letter A through M should report for registration from 9 to 11:30 a. m. Those whose last names begin with the letter N through Z should report for registration from 1 to 3:30 p. m.

* * *

EVERY other pupil, according to the superintendent, will be assigned to an afternoon session. A parent desiring a change of assignment may trade with another parent.

There are two requirements for registration. The pupil must be five years old before September 1, 1958 and a birth certificate must be presented to complete the registration.

The superintendent stressed the point that Circleville has no special neighborhood kindergartens. If enrollment is too heavy at one school, pupils must be assigned where there is room.

Mickey Rooney Works Again At Studio of 'Hardy' Series

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It gives me a strange feeling to be back at this studio," said Mickey Rooney as he was driven onto the MGM lot.

"I still expect L. B. Mayer to be walking down the street, or to see Joan Crawford or Clark Gable or Spence Tracy. But they aren't here any more. None of the old gang is here any more."

Despite the thinning of the star ranks, Mickey says MGM will be coming back strong. And he's doing his bit to help the recovery.

He has returned to the home grounds in the role that made him the No. 1 box office star in his youth. "Andy Hardy Goes Home" revives the fabulous series that was the most successful in film history.

Mick returns not merely as a star, but as a partner. His Fryman Productions, named after the street where he lives, owns 50 per cent of the film.

Does this mean the Hardy series will keep going?

"We'll wait and see how this one goes," he said. "What we'd like to do is make two of them a year back to back. We could film two of them in 20 days, then space out their release."

It seems incredible that two films could be made in 20 days but he explained that he's making the current one in slightly over 11. That's due to the skillful planning of his manager and producer, Red Doff, and fast-shooting director Howard Koch.

"We're making the picture for $301,000," said producer Doff. "That includes the overhead. MGM is wondering how we can do it. Within one month, we will have moved on the lot, made the picture and moved off."

"But the quality is there," Mick added. "We're getting some wonderful stuff from my son Teddy, who plays Andy Hardy's son, and from Johnny Weissmuller Jr."

Also in the film are the Hardy family regulars: Fay Holden, Cecilia Parker and Sara Haden. The late Lewis Stone will be represented by an oil painting of Judge Hardy. And there will be flashbacks showing Andy's onetime girl friends—Lana Turner, Judy Garland and Esther Williams.

Tokyo Police Questioning Grid Star in Inlaw's Death

TOKYO (AP)—The Tokyo prosecutor's office today began intensive questioning of former Yale football star Joseph P. Crowley about the death of his brother-in-law, T. A. D. Jones Jr.

Crowley was questioned all afternoon by Prosecutor Kenjiro Furukawa at metropolitan police headquarters where he had spent the night in a cell.

Crowley, a 48-year-old native of Milwaukee who had come to Tokyo with Jones to buy an oil tanker, can be held for 20 days without charge. Police Inspector Tsunetoshi Shirakawa said he was arrest-of having inflicted the injuries which caused Jones' death."

Crowley's Japanese lawyer, Arthur K. Mori, has quoted him as saying, "This whole thing is ridiculous . . . I don't know how such a thing could happen."

Jones, 45, was found dead May 8 in the hotel suite he shared with Crowley and Frederick M. Kissinger, a Maryland accountant. Kissinger also has been questioned at length by police.

An autopsy showed Jones died from a cerebral hemorrhage linked to contusions on the left eye and near the left ear. Chief of Detectives Goroku Furuta said the body "was covered with black bruises, both eyes were blacked and his lip cut."

He was the son of the late Yale coach T. A. D. Jones and headed a New Haven business firm.

Mori, also a Yale graduate, visited Crowley and Kissinger twice Wednesday night in the presence of a police interpreter. He was not allowed to sit in on today's questioning session with the prosecutor. He will be allowed to post bail for Crowley only if an indictment is handed down.

To hold Crowley without an indictment, the prosecutor must go before the Tokyo District Court Saturday and ask for a 10-day detention warrant. It can be renewed once.
